Trash cost worries city

By HARRY BARNES
 of the Press-Record

Granite City council members admitted Tuesday night they are "upset" by developments in the city's attempt to obtain a new three-year garbage and trash collection contract, and decided to call a caucus session of the council as a whole to talk about it.

Alderman Paul R. Bowler of the Seventh Ward, chairman of the council's Finance Committee which has the job of budgeting the funds for garbage collection, told the council that he was "fed up" with outside influences that "have no business poking into our business."

Bowler said that he had learned that a "politician" had talked with several aldermen, suggesting they vote to award the new garbage contract to R.D. Johnson of Godfrey, the lowest of four bidders seeking the contract.

Bowler later identified the politician whom he claimed had discussed the contract with several aldermen as William "Bill" Harrison, chairman of the Granite City Democratic Central Committee.

Harrison, however, denied Bowler's assertions and said he had made no point of talking to anyone to promote approval of the Johnson contract bid. "I talked with several aldermen whom I know but I wasn't trying to get anything brought on the (council) floor," Bowler would be the one to get something on the floor. The garbage contract is something I would not have any right to interfere with."

Harrison attended the Tuesday night council meeting and noted that he was there in behalf of a group of citizens who protested present plans for a holding pond and drainage ditches at the end of Wilson Park Lane.

Bowler told the council, "Even the FBI is interested. They are asking questions about the opening of the bids."

The aldermen told the Press-Record after the meeting that several FBI agents "called on me personally to ask about the opening of the bids. They didn't tell me why they are interested."

He said he is unable to understand the reason for a letter submitted to the council Tuesday night by the low bidder, who asked the city to inform him of procedures so that he can prepare to take over the garbage collection work after the present contract expires in June.

The letter set out the company's plans for handling the collection work and said that an immediate award of the contract should be made so that the Johnson firm can "implement this advantageous program for the city."

Bowler noted that "We haven't awarded any contract and its not certain what we will do. I understand that a politician called several aldermen and asked them to award the Area to stash some of trash

On Saturday, April 12, from 9:30 a.m. to 12 noon, over 1,200 children of the local community will be participating in the second annual Quad-City area clean-up campaign — STASH the TRASH Day.

This event is being sponsored by the Tri-Cities Area Chamber of Commerce, McDonald's Corp., Pepsi-Cola Co., and the REACT group and will involve Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts and many other youth organizations.

Many young children, such as Brownies and Cubs, will participate along with older groups.

Mrs. Geraldine Short, 59, of 2608 Pontoon Road, died of injuries sustained in a plunge from the McKinley Bridge, Venice. She was pronounced dead at 2 p.m. Wednesday at St. Elizabeth Medical Center by Ed Werner, deputy coroner for Madison County, who said the apparent cause of death was a broken neck.

A boat had been moved to the area beneath the bridge while Venice police attempted to persuade her not to jump.

She was placed in the boat about a minute after striking the surface of the Mississippi River, and the efforts to help her recover were continued in the boat on the Venice shore and in the ambulance on the way to the hospital.

A toll collector had telephoned police at 10 p.m. Wednesday about a woman on the Venice-owned bridge near south on railing at the western end of the bridge's superstructure.

Paul Crawford, bridge maintenance supervisor, and Clarence Achors, bridge maintenance worker, first noticed a woman sitting in her car blocking the outer eastbound lane about 150 yards from the Missouri bank.

When the bridge workers inquired about her car blocking the traffic she said she was waiting for her husband to come there and that the car had stalled.

When they went back a short time later to check on the vehicle, she was outside the car and at the railing.

Whenever anyone tried to walk near her or cars would stop, she would tell them to stay back or she would jump, witnesses said.

Venice Police Officer Joseph Meehan was sent to the bridge and immediately requested the Venice Fire Department rescue unit and boat.

All bridge traffic, meanwhile, was stopped. Meehan tried to begin a dialogue with the woman and made

Table drainage plans

By GARY SCHNEIDER
 of the Press-Record

Plans to drain the Briarcliff area of Granite City into a holding pond at the end of Wilson Park Lane were tabled during a public meeting on the project last night in the City Hall.

About 80 persons were in attendance and most expressed strong sentiments against the proposed drainage plan. The consensus was that some kind of drainage plan is needed, "but not in MY back yard."

Alderman Warren Decatur of the Fourth Ward, in which the proposed holding pond would have been located, drew loud applause when he said, "The aldermen of the ward decided before tonight this plan was not feasible. This plan is not going to go, so there's no reason to discuss it any more."

However, one woman in the audience said she did not feel the aldermen of the ward, Decatur and Glen Sprankle, had given the residents sufficient information about the proposed project when it started. She questioned whether they would keep the residents informed of their efforts to block the project.

"Did anyone here know about this project before it was presented (to the council)? No. The newspaper told us."

Teamwork helping to combat paralysis

By BILL WINTER
 Editor

A rehabilitation team formed at St. Elizabeth Medical Center this year following a year's advance planning is helping many victims of paralytic strokes recover some of their former skills.

Focusing on new stroke victims and utilizing an interdisciplinary approach, the program is relatively unique in this region regarding its specific procedures.

But there is considerable precedent for what is being done, and training that is being obtained at a number of locations in the Midwest is helping various members of the stroke-fighting team perfect the techniques.

"Don't call the success a miracle," Marti Hogan emphasizes, saying that unjustifiably high expectations can be demoralizing to stroke victims undergoing therapy. But she and others are convinced that progress is being made, and that additional gains can be achieved in the future.

A registered nurse, she is supervisor of the stroke rehabilitation program and of the 3 Doctors Wing floor at SEMC. Working closely with her in coordinating the rehabilitation efforts is Jackie Haug, a registered physical therapist, director of the physical therapy department.

In charge of the stroke rehabilitation program is Dr. Alex Datuin, medical director.

Basic to the local rehabilitation approach are regular conferences in which each team member gives candid findings and opinions from his or her own expertise and vantage point.

All are aware that each patient under discussion is one, whole individual.

Federal debt still escalating

By U.S. SENATOR JESSE HELMS

On a certain fall day in 1979, the exact federal debt stood at $818,556,089,040.50. Exactly one year earlier, in 1978, the federal debt was $768,576,581,519.99.

That is an increase, in one year's time, of $49,979,487,520.51. This was happening at the very time that the president and the leaders of Congress were pretending that federal spending was being brought "under control." Don't you believe it.

It's too bad that the American people do not have available to them at all times the precise arithmetic of our country's economic situation. If they did, they would never stand for the things that go on in Washington.

The arithmetic of excessive federal spending and the enormous federal debt tells the story of inflation. Simply said, the federal government is the prime culprit in inflation.

Congress could stop inflation — and could have stopped it long ago — if it had just had the courage to say "no" to excessive federal spending.

I typed a report from the Office of Personnel

Management that the federal government hired 14,241 new employees during July 1979. Project that over a 12-month period, and the number of new federal employees added in one year's time is equivalent to the population of a sizeable city.

The total number of federal civilian employees, as of Aug. 1, stood at 2,963,671. That does not include the military.

The salaries of federal civilian employees cost the taxpayers — in July alone — $4,621,062,000. That's more than $4½ billion a month. And that does not include additional billions for fringe benefits, retirement, etc.

Incidentally, there was a recent piece in Industry Week magazine which pointed out that the American people paid more in taxes last year than they spent for food, clothing and housing.

Americans spent $575 billion to provide the necessities of life for themselves and their families. But taxes cost them $624 billion. That's an amount equal to almost 57 percent of all wages and salaries earned in this country last year, according to the magazine.

Regarding "foreign aid," you should bear in mind that the "foreign aid" program is operated with borrowed money — on which the taxpayers must pay interest. The program has cost the American people something in the neighborhood of $300 billion since 1945.

The U.S. government has handed out billions of dollars over the years to a multitude of countries which have wasted and squandered the funds. Much of the money has gone to Communist regimes. It still does.

For example, recently I tried in vain to prevent the allocation of $500,000 of the American taxpayers' money to an organization in South-west Africa known as the "Namibia Institute."

Our State Department acknowledges that this so-called "Institute" is scarcely more than a mechanism for training Communist terrorists. Yet, because the United Nations asked our State Department to furnish a half-million dollars for the Namibia Institute, that amount was included in the proposed foreign aid spending legislation for the coming year.

I am convinced that the American people understand that inflation is not going to be stopped until the federal budget is balanced. And the only way to do it is by cutting back on federal spending.

Uncontrolled spending is the root cause of inflation. And it is also the reason that interest rates are so high that relatively few Americans can afford to build or buy a new home.

So, when you begin thinking of how to solve today's economic problems, just bear in mind that the federal government doesn't solve problems. The federal government is the problem.

All urged to mail census form

The Census Bureau is watching incoming mail for millions of questionnaires from the 1980 Census of Population and housing. Most forms should have been returned on Tuesday, April 1.

Ron Randolph, district manager of the census for this area, asks that "if yours is one of the missing, you fill it out and mail it today. Don't make the Census Bureau come calling for your census form."

"Every person must be counted, whether by mail or personal visit by a census taker, and the cost of the census goes up with every household that must be visited."

"The completeness and accuracy of the census depend on the cooperation of every household and every individual in filling out and returning the questionnaire."

"Helpful examples on how to mark the answers to the questions are given on the yellow instruction guide furnished with the form."

"The brown mail-back envelope that came with the form does not require a stamp," Randolph pointed out.

CONSERVATION

It should survive budget cuts

By JOAN MURARO

SPRINGFIELD — The "core programs" in Illinois' conservation department activities are funded with state money, and therefore should not be seriously affected by threatened reductions in federal dollars returned to the states as revenue-sharing funds, says Conservation Director David Kenney.

"It's too early to say what programs will be cut," Kenney told Copley News recently, "and there's no way to know if Congress will even go along."

"But our 'core' programs are funded with state money, so I don't foresee any serious problems."

Kenney said overall he believes 1980 is going to be "one of the most volatile times in recent history for the state and the nation. There is an enormous potential for change, and we're already seeing it," he said.

A former political science professor at Southern Illinois University when he was named to the director's post in 1977, Kenney said he has been "watching the current situation with great interest."

"Economics," he feels, is only one aspect of the change, citing the recent election which saw "a number of old stand-bys out, and the emergence of a number of new faces."

All these things, he feels, will impact on state government generally and his department in particular.

Should federal funding to his department be reduced, he anticipates the biggest impact would be on the acquisition programs which are funded by the Land and Water Conservation (LAW CON) monies, and the Young Adult Conservation Corps (YACC), a year-round work program, for young adults in various aspects of conservation work.

The Lawcon programs, he said, produce about $15 million a year for Illinois, while the YACC program receives about $4 million annually.

In addition, he said, the Youth Conservation Corps (YCC), a summer-time program for younger people, receives about $1 million to $2 million yearly.

"We also get some P-R and D-J (Pittman-Robertson and Dingell-Johnson) funds every year," Kenney said, "but I doubt that would be affected, since that money comes from federal excise taxes collected on the sale of guns, ammunition, fishing equipment and other sport-related items. Those funds are used by the state in supporting programs benefiting the sport which generated the money."

The Pittman-Robertson money comes from 10 and 11 percent taxes on hunter-related sales like firearms and some archery equipment. Dingell-Johnson funds are derived from a 10 percent excise tax on sale of fishing supplies.

Reports jeep driver tried to hit him

Venice Postmaster William Singleton reported to police that at 1:10 p.m. Tuesday at Third and Hampden Streets the driver of an orange and white International jeep tried to run over him.

Singleton said he was making postal rounds with Venice Mailman Ralph Cooper and the jeep stopped, motioned for them to cross and then tried to run over Singleton.

Federal postal authorities are investigating the incident, Singleton told Venice police he had seen the jeep in the area for the past couple of days.

'SOCIAL DISEASE'

Fighting the myths

By JOAN MURARO
SPRINGFIELD — Sexual-transmitted diseases are "no worse than a bad cold."

Such diseases are a public problem, and it's up to public agencies to deal with them.

Men who have such diseases are given adequate warning through painful symptoms that something is wrong.

High school kids don't need information about such things.

"Vice" people, and "clean" people — people who brush their teeth regularly and wax their floors faithfully — don't get such diseases.

None of these things, obviously, is true, but tilting with such myths is one of the biggest jobs facing public health officials dealing with the widespread health menace of venereal infections.

Originally called "social diseases," they later became known as venereal diseases, and now are being tagged "sexually transmitted diseases (STD)."

Health professionals know that by any name, they can be deadly, that they are rampant in all levels of American society, that there are varying degrees of success in combating them.

Whether or not professionals in the health services are making any real headway in fighting them is just one of many things which aren't known.

"If we get reports of an increase in gonorrhea or syphilis, does that mean there are more cases out there, or that our reporting system is getting better?" says Mary Riordan, support services administrator for the state's public health program on these diseases.

"We don't even know how many sexually transmitted diseases there are."

She, state program coordinator Bob Atkinson and his assistant Bob Deist all agree that what the public doesn't know on the subject, or thinks it knows but doesn't, is vast, even though in this case what the public doesn't know very definitely can hurt it.

Refreshingly, no one in the program says all that is really necessary is more money.

"If someone offered us an extra $500,000," says Dr. James Martin, "I don't honestly think I could say we could actually use it."

What is needed, they all agree, is more correct information in the hands of the public.

In the current fiscal year, the program was budgeted for $600,000, of which $400,000 comes from federal sources.

One way to broaden the scope of public involvement, the administrators now feel, is to enlist the aid of physicians in private practice in the state, and to get more local participation in programs. They see noteworthy successes in both as having already been achieved.

"We used to have 26 clinics," Deist says. "Now we have 800 physicians all actively cooperating, all over the state, providing much broader services."

The clinics, which are still functioning, have expanded their programs to include testing for pelvic inflammatory disease (PID), a major complication in 17 percent of untreated female gonorrhea patients, as well as doing yeast tests and a number of other auxiliary proceedings, aside from initial diagnosis and treatment.

"Some counties, like Will and Kane," Deist adds, "have some outstanding programs." Will, which has the highest morbidity rate of the "collar" counties, has a beautiful clinic, and a big staff with at least two people assigned full time to STD's.

They have one of the better labs in a local setting in the entire state. Their screening program is excellent, and they are working with the two local hospitals in Joliet to set up PID programs.

Kane County, Riordan said, is "really impressive" and "one of the few programs anywhere I know of in the entire country which is doing a great job almost totally paid for from private sources."

"They had excellent clinics at Aurora and Elgin, and they've consolidated their programs, they've gotten an endorsement for screening programs, and they're doing it all with less than 5 percent in public money."

In Kankakee, Deist said, the county nurses association has recently begun a program there, in another instance of local services providing needed care locally, on their own initiative.

To carry their information to the schools, a new curricula has been developed by the public health department and the state Office of Education. It is now being printed and should be available to all school districts in the state for the fall term.

Seventy percent of the kids now in high school will never be exposed to an STD," Riordan says, "but it's essential the ones who are know what to do, and that it's necessary to do so."

Because of variation and other factors, Deist adds, more and more men "who are infected with gonorrhea or syphilis are not displaying the classic, painful and noticeable symptoms on which many rely for early warning they have contracted a disease, so it becomes more important they are aware of this and go for testing at regular intervals."

"These are not social problems, they're heavy-duty diseases," says Riordan, "and people have to realize that. You can't say it's no worse than a bad cold, because a cold doesn't leave you sterile, or crippled, or cause babies to be born blind. That's one more of the myths we have to combat. These are serious diseases and costly diseases. It costs $1,500 for a female with PID just to lie in a hospital bed for treatment, before you ever add the cost of a doctor seeing her or any other cost."

UTILITY RATE

Consumer group cites ICC errors

By STEVE HAHN

SPRINGFIELD — The Illinois Commerce Commission's failure to serve utility rate hike requests cost consumers hundreds of millions of dollars last year, a Chicago-based consumer group claims.

In a recently completed study, the Illinois Public Action Council said the ICC ignores substantive issues in rate cases, fails to involve itself in utility rate design and rejects intervenors' testimony.

Last year and during the first two months of this year, Illinois utilities requested $76 million in gas and electric rate increases. The ICC granted $478 million, about 6 percent.

"In granting rate increases of over $478 million, the commission made clear that its principal concern was not consumers, but rather the financial integrity of Illinois utilities," IPAC's study says.

"One can argue that financial health of Illinois utilities in the 1970s is not that of the '50s and '60s. The commission, however, has failed to analyze the reasons why and determine what has to change."

"This is demonstrated in the commission's failure to move toward a regulatory climate which will prevent future deterioration. Without some regulatory policy reform, the only solution is continuous rate increases — a policy which consumers can no longer afford."

Kevin Mosley, a spokesman for the commission, said the ICC has not been given a copy of the IPAC report, but denied the group's allegations.

"The commissioners could go on record as being against any further rate increases. That would be popular, but it would be unwarranted," Mosley said.

"We all know the price of energy and everything else is going up. We're one of the few agencies where consumers can point their fingers and say, 'They made the price go up.' We don't have an Illinois food commission consumers can point to and say, 'They let the price of beans go up.'"

Specifically, IPAC charges:

— The ICC provides little guidance for utility rate designs, which for gas utilities means rates become cheaper as consumption increases.

— The rate designs discourage energy conservation and favor industrial users, IPAC said.

— The commission ignores "substantive" issues in rate cases, such as energy planning and power plant construction.

The result, IPAC says, is that state utilities have more reserve power plant capacity than they need and expensive plants therefore remain idle.

The commission rejects most testimony submitted by consumer group intervenors and sides with utilities during rate cases.

In case after case, the commission chose to overlook utility mismanagement (ICC staff and intervenors provided evidence that documented numerous examples of mismanagement in the Commonwealth Edison and Illinois Power Co. cases).

"The commission chose to ignore the evidence. Instead, the commission rewarded the largest electric utilities by granting them large rate increases," the report said.

The IPAC calls for election of the ICC's commissioners instead of their appointment by the governor.

SCHOOLS NEXT TOPIC OF SENIOR CITIZENS

How different are the elementary and secondary schools your grandchildren attend compared to the ones you or your children attended? A lecture on changes and trends in American education will be given April 9 by Don Carver, dean of the SIUE School of Education, as part of the university's weekly gerontology program.

Two points of view regarding American elementary and secondary public schools will be presented. One view is that public schools have undergone dramatic changes in the last 50 years. Contrary to this idea is the view that the more public schools change, the more they remain the same.

Current trends in public education will also be discussed. The free lecture will begin at 1:30 p.m. in the University Center's Mississippi Room and is open to all area senior citizens.

Secretaries Week set April 20-26

Secretaries Week will again be observed this year during the week of April 20-26, with Wednesday, April 23, designated as Secretaries Day.

As the sole sponsor of Secretaries Week, the National Secretaries Association (International), through its divisions and chapters, sponsors the main thrust of "secretaries week" activities. In keeping with the professional development objectives of the association, educational activities are centered in seminars, workshops, and other forums available to members as well as non-members. The purpose of secretaries week is twofold: first to remind secretaries of their professional status in their profession, and second to bring recognition to secretaries for their role in business, industry, education, government and the professions, chapter officers announce.

Since its inception in 1952, secretaries week has been acknowledged by the heads of federal, state, provincial, county and municipal governments who issue proclamations or messages in recognition of the occasion. This year, President Jimmy Carter has issued a special secretaries week message from the White House.

"Secretaries Week reminds us that 'secretaries are forever.' No message could be truer or more appropriate. As far back as we can remember, secretaries have fulfilled vital functions in the everyday work of both government and private industry. And as far forward as we can look, secretaries will continue to be a major force in every aspect of our national life. They are, indeed, 'forever.'"

Rosalynn and I welcome this annual observance to pay tribute to our nation's Secretaries. We urge all who use secretarial services to express their appreciation and respect for the talented and dedicated people who perform them."

In addition, Governor James Thompson has proclaimed Secretaries Week and Secretaries Day on behalf of the State of Illinois. Among the aims and activities of the secretarial association, founded in 1942, are: the elevation of secretarial standards through continuing education; the fostering of programs for personal and professional development; fulfilling a spokes-authority role for the secretarial profession; forecasting changing directions, trends, and requirements that affect office practices.

NSA defines a secretary as "an executive assistant who possesses a mastery of office skills, demonstrates the ability to assume responsibility without direct supervision, exercises initiative and judgment, and makes decisions within the scope of assigned authority."

Some of the ongoing programs and major projects of NSA include: Certified Professional Secretary (CPS), the highest recognized standard of proficiency in the secretarial profession; the CPA rating in the accounting profession, this distinction is awarded to secretaries who pass a two-day, six-part examination given annually by the Institute for Certifying Secretaries. The examination covers the areas of accounting and financial management, human relations, office procedures, communication and decision-making, business law and public policy, and economics and management.

Sponsorship of Future Secretaries Association (FSA) is a program for potential secretaries enrolled in educational institutions. FSA chapters, with objectives patterned after NSA, are established under a sponsorship of NSA in an effort to provide better-trained personnel for entrance into the business world.

NSA Research and Education Foundation—for the development of research and educational projects and programs of benefit to secretaries, management, and the educators. The foundation also sponsors scholarships for FSA students.

The Secretary Magazine—the official magazine of NSA includes articles by management, secretaries, educators, etc. It is a medium of exchange of ideas, methods, problems and solutions related to secretarial work. It is another tool in our continuing education program.

Seminars, Conferences,

Workshops, Conventions, Newsletters, etc.—Another series of opportunities for learning as well as professional development.

Through NSA, members are afforded a "professional atmosphere in which to continue their education, develop initiative and leadership abilities through participation, and to receive the fellowship of others in their profession. NSA members are secretaries in all types of specializations (legal, medical, general, etc.). There are 1,692 members in the State of Illinois. Locally, there are several chapters that meet regularly, and who are planning special events during secretaries week.

Liberty Chapter holds its dinner meeting on the second Thursday of each month at Fischer's Restaurant in Belleville (although members are widespread throughout the region). They will hold an annual "Executive Night Banquet" on Thursday, April 24, at Shinn and Char's Restaurant in Collinsville. Guest speaker will be Chancellor Kenneth Shaw of Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville. For information about the chapter and its secretaries week activities, contact Sue Timberg CPS, 1115 Olive, Collinsville, (344-4250).

The Tri-Cities Chapter holds its dinner meeting on the first Thursday monthly in the Granite City-Madison-Vince area; contact Charles Vunovic CPS, 2913 Wood, Granite City.

The Alton Chapter's dinner meeting is on the second Thursday, monthly; contact June Mosele CPS, Roxana High School, Thomas at Chaffee, Roxana, (274-7571).

Calls and cards were sent to the sick and January, February and March birthdays were celebrated.

A fashion show will be featured at the next meeting on April 8, it was noted.

It was announced that the lodge will participate in and Arts and Crafts Show May 1 at the Granite City Township Building. Emylee Alford is chairman.

Social Security benefits were collected by 34.6 million Americans during 1978 — up 1.3 percent.

However, the cost of benefits also rose — 9.8 percent — benefits reached $22.3 billion in 1978, up from $24.6 billion in 1977. — CNS

Two new members are initiated

Del Ray, Rebekah Lodge initiated two new members, Laura Lawrence and Sharon Corey, at its regular meeting last week.

During his term on the Board of Education, he has served one year on the Special Education Board, two years on the Title I Advisory Board and all three years on the policy committee.

He comments, "I believe providing education to our children is the most important governmental service performed by this community and I enjoy being a part of it."

Melton said he feels school board members should address themselves to three major concerns. First is quality education for children. Second is reasonable compensation for the district's employees. Third is holding expenses in check to minimize the burden on taxpayers.

"In all past decisions I have been involved with during the past three years, I have tried to balance the needs of all three groups, so that all interests were treated fairly. If the people choose to re-elect me, I will appreciate the job the same way," Melton said.

ROBERT MAXWELL
Robert Maxwell, general supervisor of training and development for the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corp., has experience in teaching and educational administration in his campaign for the Granite City Board of Education.

Maxwell was director of vocational education for the school district two and one-half years before accepting a position with Granite City Steel about two years ago. Prior to heading the school district's vocational education program, Maxwell taught in Belleville four years and one year in Granite City. He was named assistant principal of Prather Junior High School, a position in which he served four years.

His father taught for 37 years before retiring. Maxwell is a 1961 graduate of Granite City High School and holds a bachelor of science degree from the University of Wisconsin in vocational education. He obtained his master degree in education from Colorado State University, studying education administration.

"Our children's education and educational experiences will be my prime concern. I want quality education for our children and an efficiently run school district," Maxwell stated.

E. DEWEY MELTON

Edward Dewey Melton, 41, of 2509 Westmoreland Drive, a member of the Granite City Board of Education, is seeking re-election.

Melton was born in Stewart County, Tenn., and has resided here 31 years. He is a senior systems engineer for IBM Corp. and has been with that company for 14 years. His duties include serving the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis. Formerly, he was a scientific computer programmer for McDonnell-Douglas. He also taught three years with IBM's St. Louis Education Center as a data processing instructor.

He is active in Second Baptist Church, teaches Sunday School and has coached for the church, park district and other teams. He and his wife, Karen, have been active in PTA programs and activities and he has served on the PTA executive board. The Meltons have four children, Cindy, Eddie, Laurie and Kristi.

Melton attended Granite City schools from the fifth grade through high school graduation in 1957. He received a bachelor of arts degree in mathematics in 1963 from Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

During his term on the Board of Education, he has served one year on the Special Education Board, two years on the Title I Advisory Board and all three years on the policy committee.

He comments, "I believe providing education to our children is the most important governmental service performed by this community and I enjoy being a part of it."

Melton said he feels school board members should address themselves to three major concerns. First is quality education for children. Second is reasonable compensation for the district's employees. Third is holding expenses in check to minimize the burden on taxpayers.

"In all past decisions I have been involved with during the past three years, I have tried to balance the needs of all three groups, so that all interests were treated fairly. If the people choose to re-elect me, I will appreciate the job the same way," Melton said.

JULIE GATES

JANELLE GATES
Mrs. Janelle "Julie" Gates, 2150 Harrison Ave., is seeking election to the Granite City Board of Education after many years of experience in PTA work and as a member and past chairman of the school district's Citizens' Advisory Board.

She has been married to Harry Taylor Gates 14 years and they have two children, Scott, 11, and Janelle, 8. Both attend Maryville School and Mrs. Gates has been a member of that school's PTA for seven years.

She also has served as president of the Area Council of PTAs and as secretary of PTA District 29.

She is a volunteer teacher in the Gifted Program, teaching handicrafts after school. She also was a room mother at Maryville School for seven years.

She is a member of the Church Board of Central Christian Church (Disciples of Christ), and sponsors the church's high school youth group. She was director of the vacation church school for two years.

Other activities are with the Red Cross speakers bureau and disaster committee, Beta Sigma Phi City Council and Sorority, in which she has held all offices during her 14-year membership, and a children's bowling league, in which she serves as secretary. She is a scouting den mother.

A 1963 graduate of Granite City High School, she hopes to enter Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville in the fall semester. She is employed part-time at Mapco auto salvage on Route 162.

She believes that our children deserve the best possible education and that the general public should take a more active interest in the school district.

"For years I have said, 'A woman should be on the board, but none ever ran for it. I am as good as anybody. Most of the areas in which I volunteer are child-related and I feel the child must come first, before all the other interests or groups,'" she said.

Donald L. Gargac, 4506 Edwardsville Road, is seeking election to the Granite City Board of Education on a platform of improving the school district's financial condition while repairing the deteriorating condition of some school buildings.

Gargac said he has been active in affairs of the school district for 18 months, having attended most school board meetings and having toured all of the district's school buildings with the Citizens' Advisory Committee.

He and his wife, the former Mary Ann Mikalus, have two children, Donna Marie, 10, who attends Lake School, and Anne, 3.

Gargac is a supervisory electronic technician for the Defense Mapping Agency, St. Louis. He is a member of St. Margaret-Mary Church and the Lake School PTA. He and his wife are the Lake School delegates to the Area Council of PTAs.

He has been a lifelong resident of Granite City, except for four years when he served in the Navy.

He believes the district needs better planning and more efficient management to achieve maximum benefit from tax dollars. Major repairs are needed at school buildings and overcrowding in some schools needs to be eliminated, Gargac said.

"The existing enrollment at the high schools is an area which should be studied closely, he believes. He also feels a workable local plan should be adopted for competency testing, to prevent state or federally-controlled testing. Restructuring of the Citizens' Advisory Committee and the agenda of the school board meetings is needed so citizens can become more involved in the operation of the school district, Gargac concludes.

LARRY W. MELTON
Larry W. Melton, 35, of 1640 State St., hopes to bring his business experience to the school district if he is elected to the Granite City Board of Education.

Melton said he has been involved in industry for 15 years, having served both as plant controller and manufacturing manager. He currently is a production control manager at KSH Industries in St. Louis County.

His work includes preparing budgets and developing plans to stay within the budgets.

He was born in Stewart County, Tenn., and moved to Granite City at the age of four. He attended local schools and Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

Melton is the brother of incumbent school board member Charles Luehmann, but they are not running on a joint platform.

Larry Melton said he believes several schools need major repairs, but added, "I could not support or recommend the passing of a bond issue unless, after a great deal of research, a bond issue would be the only way to repair our schools."

He also said he believes the district can be operated on a balanced budget. He would oppose the closing of more schools, which he said would cause hardship for students who have to travel farther to attend school, and on their families.

Melton and his wife, Sharon, have four children, Larry Jr., 12, a student at Prather Junior High School, Kimberly, 10, a student at Emerson School, and twins Jennifer and John, 5, who attend the district's preschool program.

CHARLES LUEHMANN
Charles Luehmann, 51, of 4512 Edwardsville Road, a lifetime resident of Granite City, is seeking election to the Granite City Board of Education as a rural candidate who feels rural areas need better representation on the board.

After serving in the U.S. Army from 1951 to 1953, Luehmann became a farmer. He is an active member of the Farm Bureau and served six years on its board of directors. He is a member of Eagles Aerie 1128 and St. John's United Church of Christ. He also is a director of the Little Rascals football program in Granite City.

He has been active in the educational process through his work with the PTA. He and his wife, Gretchen, have five children, Loraine, 18, Lisa, 17, Charles, 15, Katrina, 13, and Kurt, 11.

Luehmann believes quality education is more important than extracurricular programs and says any necessary budget cuts should come from non-educational programs. "Your child can play ball, but can he multiply? Let's keep our priorities in order," he said.

Overcrowding and the possibility of busing children out of their neighborhoods are prime issues that he will oppose, he added.

Business trash pickup costing city $20,000

By MICK STRANGE of the Press-Record

The cost to the city of Madison for dumping trash for businesses is $20,000 a year, according to Alderman Finance Chairman Thomas Gordon.

In a report at the Tuesday evening City Council meeting, Gordon asked the city to advertise for bids for trash containers of various sizes for merchants.

"We would like to look into installing the containers and then charge a reasonable fee for the pickup. It is costing the city $20,000 a year just in dumping fees," Gordon said.

Madison Mayor Mike Sasyk said, "The merchants are either having a private collector or the city picks up their trash. We just can't afford $20,000 just for dumping and that cost is going to rise. We simply can't afford to run the city into deficit spending."

A bid from Zarn, Inc. and Rubbermaid Applied Products, Inc. were opened and referred to the finance committee for study.

The two bids, which were in the form of contracts, were for trash collection systems to be tried as a pilot program at Madison homes in the near future. A recommendation by the council is to be made at the next meeting.

The council approved a contract submitted by the American Truck Supply, New Madrid, Mo. in the amount of $97,100 to put down more railroad track at the former Laclede Steel plant in Madison.

The plant is now being partially used by the T.W.R. Co. which renovates railroad box cars.

The additional track is to enable T.W.R. to work on more cars and is being paid for by a federal grant.

The American Truck Supply contract will now be sent to Madison County Community Development for approval. American was the only company to submit a bid.

The company will in time employ as many as 300 workers, with 95 percent of them being welders and burners.

The council passed an ordinance that will allow charitable agencies, registered with the state, to solicit funds at intersections where all traffic comes to a full stop.

The regulations include: no one under 16 years of age may solicit; solicitors must wear highly visible vests, have a certificate of insurance approved by the city and comply with all state statutes covering the solicitation of funds.

The council went on record to oppose Illinois House Bills 1602 and 1603, dealing with the consolidation of all downstate policemen and firemen pensions funds into two separate systems.

Mayor Sasyk and the council will send letters to all local state legislators voicing their objections to the bills.

The council approved a request from City Attorney Casper S. Nighossian to obtain a transcript of record of the discharge hearing of former Madison police officer Larry Gavinsky. Gavinsky is appealing his discharge to the Circuit Court under the Administrative Review Act.

Assessor's rent at city hall is town board issue

The Finance Committee of the Town Board is to meet soon with Von Dee Cruse, township assessor, and Supervisor Nelson Hagnauer, to determine when and how the assessor's office will pay rent to the city for space in the basement of the city hall.

The meeting was suggested by Mayor Paul Schuler following a discussion Tuesday night by City Council members who convened as the Town Board.

Alderman Paul Fisk noted that the list of claims presented by Finance Chairman Paul R. Bowler for approval did not include a rent payment for the city in behalf of the assessor's office.

"I don't recall ever having seen a rent payment since the assessor moved into the offices," Fisk said. Other members agreed.

The assessor's office moved into the city hall space last December after the police department occupied its new building at Madison Avenue and 23rd Street.

Alderman Sam Whitmer suggested no rent payments "we've been made because of year's budget had no provisions for such payments by the assessor's office to the city. Last year the assessor occupied offices at Niedringhaus Avenue for which rent was paid by the township office."

Alderman Roy Poulos said, "The office paid its rent before. I don't know why they don't have the money now."

The mayor noted that he was certain the lack of payments for rent at this time is a budget problem. He suggested the Finance Committee meet with the assessor and supervisor to work out a rent program.

Dogs run loose; mayor urges fines for owners

Dogs that are allowed to run loose in the city of Madison was a matter of concern by the city council at its Tuesday evening meeting.

Third Ward Alderman Thomas Gordon said, "I have had a lot of people complaining to me about dogs being allowed to roam the streets at night."

"I think we need to do everything we can to get these dogs off the streets and keep them off," Gordon said.

Vasil Graville, city humane officer, said, "I am no longer going to return to the owner any dog I pick up. If they are running the street and are picked up the dog will go to the pound and the owners will have to pay a fine to get the animal back."

"The city ordinance calls for dogs to be tied up or in a pen. They can not run loose and the people know it," Graville said.

Graville said, "On behalf of the city and the people involved, I want to thank Mickey (Strange) and the Press-Record for putting that article in Monday's paper about the black dog that bit a person. Thanks to the article we found the dog."

Madison Mayor Sasyk said, "To solve this situation we will have to have the people pay a fine if they don't keep their dogs tied. I hate to do this but apparently some people are just not cooperating. With summer coming on our children will be outside playing and working more and more. We do not want any person bitten adult or child."

It was noted that dogs must be licensed, but the license does not permit dogs to run free in the city.

Hearings on variance pleas

Two requests for variances to construct structures along new property lines are on the agenda of the Granite City Board of Appeals for Wednesday, April 9, at 1:15 p.m. in the city office building at 2301 Adams St.

Lester White, 2700 Emme Ave., is seeking permission to construct a room addition 30 inches from his side property line, and Harry Smith, 1833 Bremen Ave., seeks to construct an unattached garage two feet from his side property line.

After discussion of the two requests, the board will make its recommendations, which will be presented to the city council for the council's action.

Surplus in budget

In a period of financial problems and budget questions, Granite City officials received an unusual and welcome report during the regular City Council meeting Tuesday night.

Explorers plan state shoot here

Explorer Post 10-33, a law enforcement unit sponsored by the Granite City Police Department, will host a statewide shooting competition this summer on the Granite City police shooting range on the Army Installation grounds.

Permission to use the range was granted by the City Council during a regular council meeting Tuesday night.

The request to use the range was made by the post and the council gave its approval after Chief of Police Ronald Veizer reported that the activity would be amply covered by liability insurance maintained by both the Police Department and the Explorer unit.

Definit dates for the competition have not been set, but the match is to be held in June or July, the request said.

pollution control engineer of the city's clean air board, informed council members that there is an $11,000 surplus in the airboard's 1979-80 budget which expires April 30.

Alderman Fred Schuman Jr., chairman of the council's Air Pollution Committee, explained that an amendment to the budget will be necessary to permit the use of part of the surplus fund for the purchase of a data receiver and microprocessor.

Of the amount, however, $6,341 can be returned to the city, while the balance of $4,709 represents federal funding that would be used to buy the equipment.

On a motion by Schuman, the aldermen approved the proposed budget amendment and authorized the city clerk to advertise for bids for the data receiver and microprocessor.

Mrs. Case said that unless the budget was amended and the equipment purchased before the end of the current fiscal year, the $4,709 would have to be returned to the federal government and would be lost to the city.

The pollution control board has operated on a 1979-80 budget totaling $84,546, of which $48,529, or 57.4 percent, was in city funds and $36,017, or 42.6 percent, in federal funding.

Brownie Troop 581 involved in community service projects

Community service has been the prime interest of Mitchell Brownie Troop 581 during the month of March, according to a troop spokesman.

On St. Patrick's Day, the troop visited St. Elizabeth Medical Center. They presented books, crayons, puzzles, balloons, coloring books and cards to Mrs. Jocky S. Ste. of the public relations office, and to the staff of the children's ward. The girls also made special favors to be passed out to the children who are hospitalized there. Easter cakes were presented to each member at the last meeting of the month by Mrs. Mary Whiteside. Upcoming projects and a fluy ceremony were discussed.

Dentistry College to fight Carter fund at Spurred by Dean Seymour H. Hale, D.D.S., the College of Dentistry, University of Illinois, has launched a campaign to encourage Congressional defeat of President Carter's proposal for cutting $104,218,000 in federal support to medical and dental education.

Called "Operation Rescission Excision 1980," the campaign is expected to generate more than 7,000 letters written to congressmen and the two senators from Illinois, Charles Percy and Adlai Stevenson, by students, faculty, staff members and senior citizens and by parents of handicapped children treated in the U. of I. College of Dentistry.

Each of the College of Dentistry's estimated 600 students is responsible for 12 letters, prepared by April 10. The set of letters includes three written by the student himself to his local congressman and the state's senators, three written by the student's spouse or a friend, three by parents and three by a neighbor.

Another 1,000 letters will be coming from faculty and staff members in the college. Dr. Hale also plans sending congressmen and senators copies of a petition protesting the budget cut recommendation, signed by 2,000 patients who are treated in the College of Dentistry clinics.

The $104.2 million in health professions training funds earmarked for rescission includes $87,718,000 in capitation grants and $16,500,000 for health professions' non-service student loan. If approved by Congress, the cuts would take effect in October.

"The College of Dentistry could lose between $650,000 and $700,000 for the 1980-81 academic year if Mr. Carter's proposal is successful," Dr. Hale said. "In addition to zeroing out student loans, it would also severely hurt or eliminate our minority student loans, it would also severely hurt or eliminate our minority student program, geriatric dentistry program and rural dentistry program. Sharp staff reductions would also occur."

In his rescission message, Pres. Carter failed to differentiate between medicine and dentistry. He justified the budget cuts by underscoring the "current adequate supply of physicians and potential oversupply during the 1980s."

However, in a letter to President Carter, Dr. Hale said the justifications do not apply to dental education. For example, University of Illinois College of Dentistry "capitation funds support a variety of educational activities, the most prominent of which address themselves to training dentists to provide dental health services to underserved populations. Our focus is on both the inner city and rural populations," he wrote.

There's a tremendous flow of money away from Illinois to Washington," Dr. Hale commented, "and the return of funds is just a trickle. If Mr. Carter's rescission proposal passes, $15 million in spendable income will be lost to this state."

Open burning on agenda

A review of open burning abatement actions by Luria Brothers Corp. on East 23rd St., is among the items to be discussed during the regular meeting of the Granite City Air Pollution Control Board Tuesday at 7:30 p.m. in the board office at 2301 Adams St.

Also to be reviewed will be a general air surveillance and sampling of monthly activities of the department. The board will be asked to approve the revised budget for the 1980-81 fiscal year and will hear a review of the status of the department's supplemental grant application for a public relations program.

The annual operating agreement between Granite City and the Illinois Environmental Protection Agency also is to be reviewed.

3RD OF STATE FUND FROM INCOME TAXES

According to Illinois Department of Revenue Director James B. Zagel, it is impossible to specifically trace income tax dollars because they, along with sales tax revenues, federal monies and small amounts from several sources, go into the state's general revenue fund. In fiscal 1979-80, income tax dollars make up about 34 percent of the $7.4 billion general fund.

"Although the $7.4 billion represents a large amount of money, it also represents a steady decline in state government spending related to personal income," Zagel said this week. In 1976, nearly seven percent of personal income was spent by state government; for 1980, the figure is closer to six percent and is still declining.

School candidates get labor support

Twenty-seven delegates attending a meeting of the Tri-City Trades and Labor Council Wednesday night endorsed two candidates for election to the Granite School Board, and two candidates seeking election to the Belleville Area College Board.

In making the endorsements the delegates concurred in recommendations of the council's screening committee which interviewed the candidates.

The endorsements went to Donald L. Gargac and Robert F. "Bob" Maxwell, candidates for a rural position on the Granite City board, and to Avery Schermer and Michael Hildebrand, candidates for BAC board posts.

Schermer, incumbent BAC

board member, is seeking re-election to a full three-year term while Hildebrand is seeking a one-year term.

Edwin Reiske, chairman of the Screening Committee, said the delegates that the four candidates who were given endorsements were the only candidates who appeared for interviews by the committee.

Council members also were informed that a representative of the Illinois Historical Society will attend the April 16 meeting of the council to discuss a proposal to microfilm all of the trades council records which date back to 1898.

Since the records are reproduced, the originals will be turned over to the historical society.

Drainage

Someday, we are going to pick up the paper and know that it (the drainage program) is being built," she contended.

Decatur responded, "There are enough aldermen here tonight to know what the people feel." He pledged the drainage program would not be approved in its present state.

The program was drafted by City Engineer Monroe Brewer and called for a ditch from the Briarcliff area, under the railroad tracks to the end of Wilson Park Lane, near Yale and Harvard, whereby a large holding pond was to be constructed.

The holding pond would empty into existing city storm sewers at times when the sewers were not in use draining other areas of the city, Brewer explained. "The water would not stand there more than a few days," Brewer pledged.

The second phase of his program, drainage of North Granite City into a holding pond south of the Ferryall plant at 25th Street and Newark Drive, is more likely to become a reality, since there were no objections at the meeting.

Residents attending the meeting asked why Brewer had not designed a system of underground storm sewers to carry the water from Briarcliff into the Nameoki Ditch or Mississippi River and Brewer explained, "I can't run a pipe underground" from Briarcliff and another from Lueders Park Estates directly across Nameoki Road to the Nameoki Ditch, tearing up a lot of streets, would cost an estimated $4 million to $5 million.

He said the city only has about $742,000 available from community development grant funds to do the project, so the best possible drainage plan the city could afford was developed.

Dan Partney, who identified himself as a spokesman for the objectors, asked why a 1960 drainage plan, which proposed routing the water to the east, to the Nameoki Ditch, was not used.

Brewer responded, "Because that plan is 20 years old and we had to see what recent development has done. The old study shows a ditch through the middle of the K-Mart store. We looked at that."

Partney asked how much money had been spent preparing the new plan. Brewer said about $10,000 to $12,000 was spent on aerial photos of the area and another $4,000 to $5,000 was spent in designing the program.

"That money is not wasted, even if we do not build the ditches. The aerial photos will always be good," he said, adding that the photos show the various elevations and will be needed for designing any type of drainage for the city.

Partney contended the project Brewer proposed from Briarcliff was "massive" and would be costly for the city to maintain. He said plans call for the ditches to be eight feet deep, 35 feet wide and 1,000 feet long and for the holding pond to cover eight acres.

The city would have to cut weeds, spray for mosquitoes and maintain the ditches and holding pond, Partney said, adding, "The costs will be great."

He suggested that if an open ditch is required, for economic reasons, it should be put along the north side of the railroad tracks, rather than the south side.

Brewer responded, "Informal studies indicate it would be more expensive, but that doesn't mean we won't do it that way. This is just a proposal."

Brewer said putting the ditch on the north side of the railroad tracks would mean tearing up and replacing numerous private fences, as well as obtaining easements. The city already has an easement along the south side of the tracks, he stated.

The residents criticized builders who constructed residential and business developments in the area, contending those developments caused the current drainage problem. There also were suggestions one developer might profit from construction of the holding pond, since it would drain property he owns and plans to develop.

"Somebody could really cut a fat hog on this one," Partney contended.

He also stated that money was available two years ago for the drainage project and costs would have been much smaller if it had been done then. "There's been a lot of feet dragging on this," Partney said.

Brewer quickly replied to the allegation, saying the first money, $125,000, was allocated in 1977 and part of it was used for financing the project, which required more than a year to prepare and analyze.

Another $210,000 was released Aug. 8, 1977, but the council earmarked most of that for another project, which was not built. That money was just released for the drainage program in July 1979, Brewer said.

"During this period we have been trying to develop a plan that would be workable," Brewer concluded.

One man in the audience asked why, if the plan was only a tentative one, did the council give the mayor authority to negotiate for the purchase of land for the project. Brewer said that when community development funds are used "there is a lengthy procedure we must go through. The council only authorized the first step."

Decatur suggested that concerned residents form a committee to represent them in the future planning of the drainage program for Briarcliff. The committee then could stay informed of progress and could attend city council meetings, he said.

Alderman Paul Ray Bowler of the Seventh Ward said block meetings are an important part of the communications in his ward.

"It is easy to cite non-communication, but it is a hard process to please everyone. Your alderman is a spokesman for you, but he can't know everything about every little area he represents," Bowler said.

One man was booed loudly when he said he lived in the Briarcliff area and stated, "We have had no flooding there since 1956. It's time the water went somewhere else." Many in the audience responded with, "Yes, but not in my back yard."

Brewer said he will begin work immediately on an alternate plan for draining Briarcliff and hopes to have it ready to present to the council in three weeks. "In any planning effort, one of the solutions is the 'no build' solution. I don't think we want to do that."

"I am willing to go over this and see if we can determine what an apparent solution might be. We will take another look at it," he pledged.

Teamwork

whose needs must be met through balanced care and therapy. By exchanging information and comments, they educate each other about the patient and then confer often with the patient and with close relatives of the patient.

Participants include physical therapist Barbara Booth, occupational therapist Pat End, speech therapist Terry Beachy, social worker Bob Turk, psychologist Bob Hedrick, dietitian Judy Absher and nurses Elvera Wake, Linda Corcoran, Wanda Wuehler and Denise Snider.

The goal is to help each individual regain as many of his or her abilities as possible despite the limitations resulting from a cerebral hemorrhage.

A key accomplishment for the patients is to become able to adequately care for themselves, their clothing, their households, their food and other basic needs. One of the main motivations of each stroke victim is to avoid being a burden to others, the rehabilitation team has found.

Referrals from all nursing units to the ten-bed rehabilitation unit established in January are made by area physicians, after the initial impact of the stroke has been stabilized. The physicians then keep in close touch with the progress of the treatment.

The patients are evaluated by each discipline to verify that they can be helped by the team.

Vascular accidents occurring in the brain often cause paralysis and affect speaking ability. Each stroke causes differing physical consequences, and so the assistance given is tailored specifically to the individual's needs. St. Elizabeth Medical Center and other hospitals and centers have utilized many of the same procedures in the past to aid stroke victims in returning to normal life, but it is felt that concentrating the efforts in a single location will lead to greater efficiency and effectiveness.

The team concept also applies to the patients, who find contact with present and past stroke victims lends them encouragement and inspiration to overcome their own problems.

Team meetings and family conferences are held regularly, and the former solarium is utilized by the stroke patients for exercise and other therapy. Rest is permitted, but each patient also is encouraged to participate in the team efforts, so that recovery of former skills can be achieved over a period of several weeks.

Some are able to improve dramatically, while others encounter a slower rate of progress. Visits by persons who overcome similar handicaps have been found to provide substantial encouragement to new patients.

Strokes can occur at any age, and youngsters are among those who have been aided at SEMC over the years. Ages of those in the rehabilitation unit this year have been mainly in the 60s and 70s, with some in the 50s and 80s.

While the team supervision is based on groups of precise specializations, experience here has shown that on occasion jurisdictional areas can be crossed, with several team members joining to help on one patient.

An atmosphere of caring and mutual concern has developed, and none of the patients has to feel entirely alone in his or her campaign to effect crippling or disability.

"Each patient helps motivate the other patients to overcome their worries, learn to cope with the fear of falling and other concerns, and regain their ability to personally meet the many needs of daily life," Supervisor Margaret Hanson says.

"Aiding them are the SEMC associates on the stroke rehabilitation team. They come from multiple disciplines, but they are alike in their dedication to helping all reach the fullest possible degree of recovery."

SEWAGE DISCHARGE INTO CREEK ALLEGED

The Illinois Environmental Protection Agency has charged that the City of O'Fallon has violated water quality standards by allowing the city's sewage treatment system to discharge raw sewage that reached Silver Creek. Plant management procedures also have been violated, the IEPA alleges.

In a four-count suit filed on behalf of IEPA by the attorney general, it is alleged there was sewage overflow, that the system is operated without a certified operator, that the city has failed to submit discharge monitoring reports consistently, and that the effluent has exceeded standards for lead and mercury.

The complaint was filed before the Pollution Control Board in Chicago. The board will set a date for a public hearing to enable the city to answer the charges.

sure that a crowd did not form near her, but each time he sought to approach she would step over the rail and threaten to jump to the water more than 80 feet below.

When firemen arrived at the Venice boat dock, a military boat was there and the crew agreed to assist in the rescue effort.

The Army vessel, under the command of Sgt. James Blackwood, carrying three soldiers, one an Army medic, and three Venice firemen, went to the bridge area. When the crew members arrived at the location, they moved downstream about 200 feet.

She motioned for them to get back, yelled "Stay back," and then jumped at about 1:35, it was related.

Mrs. Short plummeted feet first off the bridge, struck the water with a large splash, went under the water for about five seconds and then came back up face down, floating with the current for about 45 seconds until she was placed in the boat.

Rescue workers tried to revive her and she was administered oxygen prior to the arrival of an ambulance. There were initial hopes that she might recover, but a short time later word was received that she had died.

Mrs. Short had been in ill health for 10 years.

She was born in Jerseyville, Ill., and had resided in Granite City for 34 years. She attended the Third Baptist Church and was a member of the Ruth Class at the church.

Mrs. Short served with the U.S. Air Force from 1944 to 1946, during World War II.

Survivors include her husband, Eugene Short, one son, Roger B. Short, Granite City; a daughter, Miss Joyce Jean Short of Hillsboro, Ill.; three brothers, Harold Feyerabend, Bartersville, Ind., Robert Feyerabend, Jerseyville, Ill., and Neil Feyerabend, Ackworth, Ga.; four sisters, Mrs. Clarence (Virginia) Egelhoff, Jerseyville, twin sisters, Misses Elva and Belva Feyerabend, both of Flossmoor, Ill., and Mrs. Lee (Barbara) Cartwright, St. Louis; and two grandchildren.

Funeral arrangements are given in the obituary column.

14—Thursday, April 3, 1980, GRANITE CITY (ILL.) PRESS-RECORD
School board OKs resignations

The Granite City Board of Education has accepted three resignations and one retirement and has granted leaves of absence to two employees.

Robert Candler, a custodian at Prather Junior High School, was granted retirement, effective immediately.

Resignations accepted with regrets were from Phil Lapinski, a campus monitor; Phyllis Nation, a lower intermediate grade teacher at Webster School, and Mary Anne Rawlings, an upper primary grade teacher at Frohardt School.

Leaves of absence were granted to Norman Malench, a custodian at Webster School, and Georganne Georgeff, a secretary in the board office.

The board also approved a policy requesting the superintendent to have certificates of appreciation prepared for all individuals retiring from the district in the future with at least 10 years of service. Similar certificates are to be prepared for board of education members who leave the board.

At the request of Coordinated Youth Services Director C.A. "Bud" Macmillan, the board approved an increase in the salaries for teachers at Coordinated youth of $3 per day. The increase, from $35 to $38 per day, keeps the teachers at Coordinated Youth on the same salary as substitute teachers in the schools. The increase was made retroactive to Feb. 4.

Permission was granted to eight groups to use school district facilities. The Granite City Park District is to use Logan, Marshall, Nameoki, Niedringhaus, Webster and Wilson schools weekdays for seven weeks during the summer for the summer recreation program. South's vocal music room and the softball diamonds at South, Coolidge, Grigsby, Prather, Logan and Marshall schools also will be used in the program.

The Madison County Girls' Soccer Association was granted permission to use the soccer fields of Emerson, Coolidge, Frohardt, Grigsby, Mitchell, Johnson, Maryville, Nameoki and Parkway schools after school for practice. An additional request to use the gymnasium at Johnson School and Grigsby Junior High School was denied, since similar activities in the past by other groups has resulted in some damage to the gymnasiums.

The Tri-City Association for Retarded Citizens was granted permission to have a camp out at Niedringhaus School July 14 to 25. Use of one classroom for the activity, and use of the gymnasium for camping, in case of rain, also were granted.

Permission was granted to the Bethel Chapel to use the Logan School gymnasium April 11, 18 and 25 for recreational purposes, and the Mitchell School PTA was granted authority to have a carnival in that school's gym Friday, April 18.

Cub Scout Pack 22 was granted use of the Frohardt playground May 9 for a bicycle rodeo and May 16 for physical fitness competition, and the Mitchell Athletic Club was given permission to use a Mitchell School grounds as well as a baseball field and a softball field at North high for summer practice.

The final request approved was from the Madison County Girls Association, for use of Mitchell School fields for soccer practices at times and dates convenient to the principal of the school.

The board discussed a request from the city to sell a strip of property behind the district's warehouse needed so Sidener Supply Co. will have a means of access from its property when the new 19th Street overpass in constructed.

The city would improve trash and garbage pickups for the schools at no cost to the school district, in return for the strip of land, it was explained in the board's agenda.

It also says Sidener would like to purchase additional property bordering the supply company office from the school district for its appraised value, as part of the agreement.

The school district administrators were asked to gather more information on possible alternatives to the sale, for future discussion in the April meeting.

Permission was granted for three teachers to attend special events. Mary Jane Raphael, a teacher at the Preschool Center, will attend the Association for the Education of Young Children Convention in Milwaukee, Wis., April 16 to 19.

Helen Hall, a Prather School teacher, was given permission to attend the national Council of Teachers of Mathematics meeting in Seattle, Wash., April 16 to 19. Expenses for both trips are to be paid by the district.

Cynthia Mills was granted leave time, with pay, to attend the Annual Council for Exceptional Children Convention in Philadelphia, Pa., April 20 to 25.

Two student trips were approved, at no expense to the district. The North High social studies club is planning its annual spring trip and will visit Kansas City, Mo., including Truman's Library and Crown Center, April 26 and 27.

The South High science club is planning a geological and recreational field trip to Branson, Mo., to study a mine, fish hatchery, Table Rock Dam, the Current River and the School of the Ozarks May 23 to 26. Both student trips will be funded by club fees.

Give council committee time to study trash pickup bids

Finance Committee Chairman Paul R. Bowler is right in urging a cautious approach by the City Council in planning for future Granite City trash and garbage collection. The bids currently in hand involve a major rise in the costs, and Bowler wants all aspects of such contract proposals analyzed in detail.

The alderman is unhappy with Granite City Democratic Chairman William Harrison, who acknowledges talking to several council members about the subject.

Without singling out Mr. Harrison or anyone else, we agree that political considerations ought to be kept out of the picture by aldermen as they study which direction to take. Huge amounts of money are at stake, and taxpayers want their interests kept fully in mind.

Alderman Bowler indicates there may be some avenues that could be followed, that would avoid a steep rise in the collection costs.

Whatever he has in mind, a few days' wait to hear about it seems justified.

Bus subsidy needed but sales tax not the right source

State Senator Sam M. Vadalabene of this district showed his alertness by meeting the legislative filing deadline with a bill to provide a local subsidy for the Bi-State Development Agency's bus operations in Madison, St. Clair and Monroe counties.

Without a subsidy of about $1 million a year, the General Assembly is on record as sharply reducing the $8 million state allocation for bus service here. And Bi-State would eliminate most of the local routes.

Now that the legislation has been submitted, offering the opportunity to enact it by June 30, attention needs to be given to the specific tax that would be enacted. We favor amending the plan and not utilizing the 1/4 of 1 percent sales tax increase that is outlined.

There is no consensus whatever among mayors or citizens for a higher sales tax. In fact, both the Democratic and Republican groups in the state legislature favor a further reduction in the sales tax affecting food and medicine.

Horse race tracks always have had a lot of influence in the Illinois legislature, and it is obvious that Fairmount Track would prefer not having an added admission charge. However, the proposals this winter and spring have suggested a five percent tax that would produce five times the needed subsidy. Surely, a one percent rate would be less offensive to all, and we cannot visualize it actually putting a race track out of business.

Some people favor a cigarette tax hike, although it might have the effect of driving cigarette sales outside the three-county area. This is the same drawback involved in a sales tax hike; it could prove counterproductive by reducing the base of taxable sales.

Two bills were filed by Sen. Vadalabene on March 27. One would maintain the current state subsidy for another year, giving more time to devise a local-level subsidy, but legislators from other sections of the state may not wish to go along with such a delay. The other bill would allow the three counties to create a mass transit district empowered to levy a sales tax.

The method would not directly impose a tax, but once a transit district became a reality there would be heavy pressure to utilize the suggested 1/4 of 1 percent levy.

As legislative discussions have brought out last year and this year, a good case can be made against raising the sales tax, which impacts on those of lowest income as well as big spenders. Some other financing alternative for the buses must be found, and soon.

Scouting trains boys to serve their community and the nation

To the Editor:

I wish to bring to the attention of your readers the importance the Boy Scouts of America organization has within our society today.

The major roles that the Boy Scouts train our youth for are to serve God, serve our nation, and serve or help their neighbor.

This training begins at an early stage in life for boys through the Cub Scout program. Close attention is given the Cub Scouts by the leaders during activities and training programs.

Achievement awards are earned by Cub Scouts in areas of fitness, helpfulness, handicrafts, hobbies, ropework and games.

In celebrating its 50th anniversary, the Cub Scout program has shown that it is an important part of the American way of life.

This year, the organization will register the 30th million Cub Scout into the program, demonstrating the appeal

Cub Scouting has had on America's boys.

Cub Scouting has also played an important part in the development of our country, by performing service to our nation in times of great need.

Such service included selling war bonds, collecting paper and tin, etc., during the wars and donating hours and hours of time toward public service.

It becomes a major importance that the people of the nation and our community preserve and maintain the Cub Scouting program and encourage our boys to take part in its program.

We ourselves should also help by donations and volunteering our time to see that the boys receive the most of the benefits that the program has to offer.

As chairman of the memberships relations committee of the local Boy Scout District, I pray and hope that every young boy receives a chance to take part in the program and that his parents also show their love by volunteering to help.

Ice hockey season was great

To the Editor:

Jay Strotheide's mom and dad want to thank you and Kevin Allen for the hockey article which appeared in the Press-Record. Jay mentioned to us that he had talked with a Press-Record reporter during the invitational hockey tournament, and he was hopeful that his name might appear in the newspaper.

Needless to say, we were all surprised and thrilled to see an entire column devoted to him.

You have made Jay an overnight celebrity on Shilwin Drive and at Lake School, but we are confident that he will handle his new status with the dignity and modesty of most ten-year-old boys.

When he came home from school with a ballpoint pen tied around his neck, we teasingly asked if he had been signing autographs, but all he had for an answer was a big ten-year-old grin.

Thanks again for a great article.

We would also like to voice thanks and appreciation to the Granite City Park District, the Granite City Amateur Hockey Association, Mick and Darlene Sues, Sandy Richey, all of Jay's teammates and their parents, and everyone else who helped to make this year's hockey season such an enjoyable one for us.

News notes

The prime interest rate rose Wednesday to 20 percent at many large banks. Businesses and individuals are attempting to reduce their borrowing needs as a result of the unprecedented rate. Interest ceilings on federally-backed mortgages for single-family homes were increased to 14 percent from 13 percent, the third increase in two months.

New legislation to put a lid on spending by local governments is being pushed by Gov. James Thompson.

A Gateway Co-ordinating Council study indicates Poplar Street Bridge traffic congestion could be eased by spending $111 million to repair the McKinley, MacArthur, Eads and King bridges. To build a new bridge similar to the Poplar span might cost $155 million.

Construction of the new Alton area lock and dam will not be affected by a temporary suspension of federal civil works, the Engineer Corps said Wednesday. But railroads and environmentalists this week asked the U. S. Court of Appeals to stop the project while they are appealing a court ruling favoring the work.

A 10-inch chain saw valued at $100 was stolen from the office of Paul Seebold Concrete Co. It was reported at 2 p.m. Wednesday.

RACING CHANGE

Bill proposes one commissioner

By RAY SERATI

SPRINGFIELD — Legislation to change Illinois' Racing Board to a single commissioner has been introduced in the Senate.

The bill (SB 1591) is being sponsored by Sen. Robert W. Mitchell, R-Oswego.

He sponsored the measure at the request of Oscar Fedar of Oswego. Fedar told Copley News Service his interest stems from the fact that he's interested in horse racing and the fact that Fox Fields in North Aurora has had difficulties in acquiring racing dates.

"I think the racing board is discriminating against the free enterprise system," he told Copley News Service.

The present board is made up of seven members. They are appointed by the governor with the advice and consent of the Senate. The board members are paid only a per diem basis.

The governor would appoint the racing commissioner, under the terms of Mitchell's bill.

The bill is an outgrowth, Fedar points out, of recent problems experienced by Fox Fields to acquire racing dates.

Basically the racing board has denied Fox Fields' application for Sunday racing in 1980. The matter also has ended up in Kane County Circuit Court, but Judge John A. Krause has denied the track's request for an injunction trying to stall the board's denial of the racing dates. He will make other rulings concerning the case on Tuesday.

When Fox Fields originally applied for racing dates, track officials were told to make the facility operational. Some $700,000 has been spent in the first phase of a rehabilitation program at the track in North Aurora.

Despite the outlay of the money, Fedar said, the racing board turned down the track's request for racing dates.

Sunday racing dates were granted last year to Balmoral near Crete in Will County. Opponents to the Sunday race dates for North Aurora maintain such a move would lower the Monday handle at the Chicago tracks. Horsemen who want to race at the North Aurora track deny this. They point out that most of the tracks are over the 45-mile limit away from North Aurora and residents are not driving that far to watch horse races. Balmoral is about 60 miles from North Aurora.

Fedar points out that Gov. James R. Thompson and other state officials have been urging residents to cut down on driving and to drive 55 miles per hour and under. He feels that racing at North Aurora would mean that residents interested in horse racing would not have so far to travel to a track.

Fedar feels that by having a racing commissioner, horsemen would be able to have their cases heard a great deal quicker than is presently the case with the seven-member board.

"It will help give horse racing a boost in Illinois," he told Copley News Service in a telephone interview.

The legislation is patterned after the setup in the state of Massachusetts, according to Mitchell.

It would also allow the commissioner to have a panel of horse racing experts to help him.

A hearing date on the bill has not been set. It must still be assigned to a committee for a hearing. If it wins committee approval it will then be sent to the Senate floor for action there.

Law urges school immunization

munization of school children in some sections of Illinois this last winter has caused some discussion especially in the area of contracting measles.

Some local school districts ended up getting into long discussions with state officials over immunization programs. But this may be all behind them now. This might come about because of legislation that was approved last year by the General Assembly and signed into law by Gov. James R. Thompson. The bill (HB 2901) was sponsored by Reps. Pete Peters, R-Chicago, Richard Mugalian, D-Palatine, and Mary Hallstrom, R-Glenview.

The provisions of the bill actually will be effective for the next school year.

The new law provides that there will have to be compliance concerning immunizations and health examinations of individual school districts may be penalized with a loss of state aid funds.

Private law required the immunizations and health examinations, Peters told Copley News Service, but there were no provisions for enforcing the law.

"It needed some teeth," he said, "and that's what we gave it."

The bill provides for the withholding of state aid payments to school districts on a percentage basis. A total of 10 percent will be withheld if less than 80 percent of the students are not in compliance and it will be 90 percent for the following school year.

This is the first time that a state law has been made in which cuts in state aid payments would be made if immunization or health examination requirements are not met.

"We did provide in the legislation for religious exemptions," Peters said.

That means if an individual's religion or religious beliefs are contrary to the law, exemptions will be made. But apparently the individual school district will have to take this into consideration and keep its own records.

The bill provides that all of the information must be gathered by the individual school districts by Oct. 15, 1980. This is the 90 percent deadline, while Oct. 15, 1981 is the deadline for the 90 percent immunization deadline.

FASHIONS FOR SPRING—from several Granite City shops are modeled during the Pontoon Beach Lioness Club's 1980 style show. The proceeds were donated to the Pediatric Unit of St. Elizabeth Medical Center to provide carpeting for the playroom.

Spring style show aiding Pediatrics

The Pontoon Beach Lioness Club has sponsored a spring style show, with the proceeds of over $850 going to the Pediatric Unit of St. Elizabeth Medical Center. The money will be used to purchase carpeting for the Pediatric Unit's playroom, which is now in the planning stage.

Several clothing stores participated in the show, held in late March in the Medical Center's Kettler Center gym. Those stores included Boutique II, Ruth's Store of Fashion, the Tops "N" Bottoms Shop, Stefanie's and Inge's, all of Granite City. Models for the show included several members of the Lioness Club and Medical Center associates.

The show was dedicated to "1979—Year of the Child," with the goal to benefit children in the Medical Center and throughout the community.

Club President Cindy Niepert said the club members are thinking of making the style show one of their annual events.

BRIDAL GOWNS are among the fashions modeled during the Pontoon Beach Lioness Club's style show. Cindy Niepert, president, was one of the Lionesses who modeled clothing from several Granite City women's wear shops. The event was held in the Kettler Center.

Easter services—

a first-person account from the eyes of "Simon of Cyrene." Several area ministers will be sharing responsibilities during the service.

The entire service will be broadcast live over WGNU, it was announced.

An offering will be received to support the work of the Ministerial Association. The public is welcome to attend, the Rev. Louis Frick, host pastor, said.

The annual 6 o'clock outdoor Easter sunrise service for the community is again scheduled for Wilson Park's Recreation Center (ice skating rink). The speaker will be the Rev. Francis Rossow, a professor at St. Louis Concordia Seminary.

The service is sponsored by the Quad-Cities Lutheran Bureau, an association of Granite City's three Lutheran churches: Concordia, Hope and St. John.

This will be the 31st sunrise service sponsored by the Lutheran Bureau, made up of commissioners of the three churches.

Ed Christ is chairman of the bureau and Harold Kienle is treasurer. Frank Roberts, McKenzie Gordon, Ralph Busker and James Coast are the other commissioners.

John T. Severine Sr., will direct a brass ensemble including his son, John Jr., and Luther Bodt. The ensemble will lead the sunrise worshippers in hymns of Easter.

Professor Rossow occupies a chair in the Practical Theology Department of the seminary from which he received his master of divinity degree. He went to the St. Louis seminary in 1976 from a professorship at Concordia College, Fort Wayne.

His sermon will be "Resurrection: the Rule Rather than the Exception." Pastor Arvin Twietmeyer of Concordia will be the liturgist for the service. Madison County Federal Savings and Loan will sponsor a live radio broadcast of the service.

"We are pleased," Pastor Twietmeyer commented, "that the community is enjoying this early Easter service. With the help of Harold Brown, parks and recreation superintendent, coffee and doughnuts will be served to the worshippers immediately after the service."

Egg hunts—

The Granite City Park District will host an Easter egg hunt on Saturday, April 5, for children from pre-school through first grade only, at the Wilson Park ice rink.

Schedule for the event will begin at 9 a.m. for first graders; 10:15 a.m. kindergartners and 11 a.m. pre-schoolers.

Prizes will be awarded for the golden eggs, most eggs for boys, and most eggs for girls. All children must bring their own containers for the eggs.

The eggs will be hidden in straw that will cover the ice rink floor.

For more information those interested may call the Park District office at 877-3059.

Granite City Park district officials said the egg hunt at Wilson Park will be for district residents only.

Trash cost—

contract tonight to the low bidder (Johnson).

"I resent this. The Finance Committee has been working hard to work out our problems. There are other alternatives to awarding a contract at the high bid prices we received last week," Bowler said.

The city last week received four bids for the garbage contract which could cost the city almost double what it is paying for garbage collections during the current fiscal year.

Bids received last week ranged from the R.D. Johnson bid of $798,000 for the first year of a three-year contract with a four percent increase in each of the two following years, to a bid by Browning Ferris Industries of St. Louis at $850,000 for the 1980-81 year and a 15 percent increase in each of the following two years.

Milam-East Division of SCA Services which holds the present contract bid $826,225 for the first year with 12 percent increases the following two years.

The present contract held by Milam-East provided for $398,000 the first year with five-percent increases during the following two years. This has amounted to $1,254,875 over the three-year period.

Bowler told the aldermen that the Finance Committee would welcome any suggestions they might have toward a solution of the garbage collection problem.

Granite City is facing a period of anticipated reductions in revenue and several aldermen have expressed an opinion that the city cannot afford the prices quoted in the garbage collection bids.

Alderman Sam Whitmer told the council he doesn't believe the Finance Committee should have to shoulder the entire burden of recommending what should be done about the trash collection contract.

"I think all of the aldermen should hear all of the details on the bids. I don't think all of the pressure should be on the Finance Committee," Whitmer said, adding that "We should have a caucus of all the council members and then all of us should decide what should be done."

Alderman Mac Warfield suggested the council might be able to negotiate to gain a lower price, but Alderman Glen Sprankle said he believes the council should throw out the four bids received last week and call new bids.

Alderman Warren Decatur moved the council meet in a caucus session Tuesday night, but the motion was withdrawn after Mayor Paul Schuler suggested that details of the bids and other information needed for a discussion be obtained first "so that we can talk about it intelligently."

The aldermen decided to obtain all available information and then set a time for a caucus session.

Permanent test drives alleged

Many people like to have a new car every two years, but police are not recommending the method Richard Akridge, 53, Belleville, allegedly used to get his last four years—without paying for them.

Akridge has been charged in informational documents from the Madison County state's attorney's office with two felony counts of theft.

It is alleged he took a car from Big 4 Chevrolet on a test drive from February, 1973, and never returned the auto. Feb. 14 of this year, he allegedly took an auto from Mathews Chevrolet, Madison and Niedringhaus avenues, for a test drive, and failed to return it.

Hits parked cars, driver arrested

Rudolph G. Kriz, 57, of 2262 Delmar Ave., was charged with careless driving and driving while intoxicated after his station wagon struck a parked car in the 2100 block of Delmar Avenue at 10 p.m. Tuesday.

Witnesses said the station wagon was northbound on Delmar Avenue and struck the parked car of Carla Harper, 2112a Delmar Ave., pushing it forward about 50 feet into the parked car of Ora Tindall, 2114 Delmar Ave.

When police arrived at the scene, Kriz allegedly was staggering and refused either to go to the hospital or to take a breath test.

He later agreed to get medical treatment and was taken by a Granite City ambulance to St. Elizabeth Medical Center where he was treated for injuries to his head and left elbow. He was transferred to Oliver C. Anderson Hospital in Maryville.

The fire department had to wash gasoline from the roadway after the accident.

Dutko resigns from Madison Council to work for county

and MICK STRANGE
of the Press-Record

Madison Alderman Frank Dutko resigned from the Madison City Council Tuesday night to accept a temporary position as an investigator for the Madison County state's attorney's office, effective immediately.

Dutko, who was elected as the Democratic nominee for the District 24 seat on the Madison County Board will have to leave the state's attorney's office in December, when he is seated on the board, presuming he is successful in the November general election.

Byron explained a conflict of interest would exist if Dutko were to become a county board member and remain an investigator for the state's attorney's office, since he would be, in effect, voting on his own salary.

He also said a conflict would exist if Dutko had remained on the Madison City Council while working for the state's attorney's office, according to a ruling by the state attorney general's office. That ruling led to the dismissal of two former assistant state's attorneys, Stephanie Reis and Don Weber. Weber is the Republican nominee for state's attorney and will run against Byron in the November general election.

Dutko's resignation letter was accepted unanimously by the Madison Council, "with deep regrets and gratitude for his devoted service to the council and the city of Madison."

In the letter, Dutko said, "After serving as a public servant for the past 30 years in the city of Madison, both as a police officer and presently as alderman, it will be necessary for me to tender my resignation as alderman of Ward Two."

"This act is necessary to avoid a conflict of interest, as I have accepted a new position with the Madison County state's attorney's office effective April 2, 1980."

"This decision was made by me with mixed emotions. I have always, as an administrator, tried to be fair with people. I have always given my best efforts toward providing a healthy environment, along with the best police and fire protection possible for the people living and working in the city of Madison."

"I hope to continue a close relationship with you, the city council, and the mayor. I further hope that I can provide any service that will make the city of Madison a better community in which to live and one that all citizens can be proud of."

"In conclusion, I wish to take this opportunity to thank each and every one of you, along with the great city organization, in making it possible for me to be elected to the Madison County Board in November. Again, thank you, from the bottom of my heart and good luck to all of you in the future," Dutko said.

Byron said Wednesday that Dutko had started work with the state's attorney's office and was learning how the office functions.

"I hired him to develop an investigative unit within this department. We have had some good investigators in the past, but we lost a great last year and went to CETA (Manpower) to help."

We had a good man, but not someone with police training. The county board at last has seen that my office needs an investigator, three more assistant state's attorneys and two more secretaries and has provided funds for them.

"I would like, in next several months, to get Frank (Dutko) to develop a closer liaison between himself, my office and the police on felony and serious misdemeanor investigations."

"I want to heighten and really refine our coordination with the police, and particularly the detective sections."

"One of the requirements in working for me is you can't have any other position with a governmental body. I told him if he could see fit to resign from the Madison City Council, I would like to hire him," Byron explained.

Charges follow scuffle

Vernon D. Blankenship, 28, of 2843 Myrtle Ave., was charged with aggravated assault, resisting arrest and disorderly conduct after he allegedly scuffled with a police officer at Blankenship's mobile home at 6:05 p.m. Monday.

Patrolman Michael Chosich was called to the mobile home on a report of a disturbance and alleged that when he arrived, Blankenship's wife, Violet, said her husband had been hit, used obscene language, kicked the inside of the doors of the mobile home and then went outside and broke a glass coffee pot on the sidewalk.

Chosich alleged Blankenship yelled at him to get off his property and threatened to blow Chosich's head off if the officer entered the mobile home.

Blankenship was told he was under arrest, but he allegedly backed into the mobile home and when Chosich attempted to take him into custody, they wrestled over a coffee table onto the couch. Chosich said he used force to handcuff Blankenship and arrest him.

Blankenship first was charged only with disorderly conduct and was released at 8:05 p.m. Monday on $35 bond. Chosich then conferred with detectives and the additional charges were filed. Blankenship was arrested on warrants at 4:05 p.m. Tuesday.

Overpass pact completed by city

An agreement under which the Granite City Steel Division of National Steel Corp. will pay off $1.7 million in general obligation bonds to help the city finance construction of the 19th Street overpass was finalized by the City Council Tuesday night.

Council members, with only one alderman absent, voted unanimously to approve the agreement and to authorize Mayor Paul Schuler to sign it. The council's action will account for the final phase of the overpass financing which will total $5.9 million.

The agreement provides for annual payments by the steel company to retire principal and interest due on general obligation bonds which were authorized for sale by the city a week ago.

The plan was advanced by the steel firm in return for the city's abandonment of a proposal to establish a utility tax that would be assessed against gas and electric usage.

City Attorney Lance Callis explained to the aldermen in Tuesday's session that while the bond sale ordinance provides for a tax and the bond issue, that tax will not be extended.

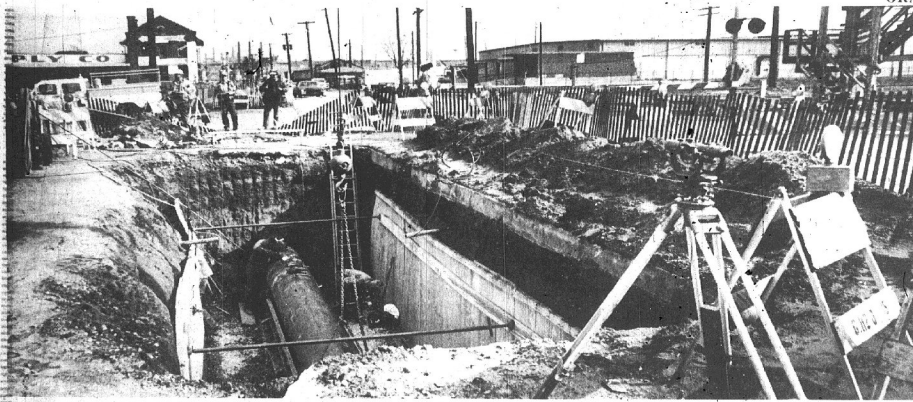

He said the ordinance provides for abatement of the tax since the money will be on hand. The county clerk's office which extends taxes for bond payments will be notified the money is available from sources other than taxes and the tax will not be levied, he said. This process must be followed each year through the 20-year period of the bond amortization.

A bond sale totaling $2,590,000 was authorized by the council in its March 25 meeting. Of the amount, $1.7 million is to be retired under the agreement with Granite City Steel and the other $890,000 in bonds will be retired by the city with motor fuel tax funds. No tax is to be extended for the $890,000 issue, Callis said.

The bonds have been sold to Clayton Brown & Associates, Chicago investment firm.

Meanwhile, relocation of utility lines in preparation for construction of the overpass has begun.

Contract for construction of the overpass has been awarded by the Illinois Department of Transportation to L.E. Millstone Construction Co. of St. Louis on a bid of $3,943,040.

PRELIMINARY WORK BEGINS on 19th Street in preparation for construction of the long-awaited traffic overpass between Downtown and West Granite. A welder for the Illinois-American Water Co. is seen at the far end of the excavation, immediately north of the 19th Street railroad crossing, welding a 30-inch steel casing in which a 20-inch water main will be installed. The main is being moved from the center of the street to the side to allow the construction of pillars which will support the vehicular overpass. The water company expects to be at the site for about six months, as more than 1,700 feet of water main must be moved. A sewer line will be the next utility to be relocated. This view is looking east toward the downtown business district.

Women hit at tavern

Granite City police are attempting to identify a man who struck two women in Police Officer's Tavern, 2409 Lincoln Ave., during the weekend.

The victims notified police Tuesday of the incident. Marcilla Ragan, 806 Kirkpatrick Homes, suffered a broken jaw and facial bruising and swelling and Jeanette Hoffmann of the same address had large bruises to her chin and jaw. They said they were dancing with a group of people when a man seated at a table said they could not dance anymore. When they approached the man to ask him why, the man stood up and punched both women with a fist, they reported.

Employees of the tavern got the man to leave, but he returned moments later, found Marcilla Ragan at the telephone and punched her again. She ran home and later sought treatment at St. Elizabeth Medical Center.

THREE ARE INJURED IN TWO COLLISIONS

Three persons were injured in two accidents moments apart at 23rd Street and Cleveland Boulevard at 11:50 p.m. Saturday.

The incident began when the auto of John L. Kite, 18, of 3612 Kirkpatrick Homes, attempted to pass the southbound auto of John Jackson, 2400 Kirkpatrick Homes, on the right on Cleveland Boulevard, according to witnesses, and Jackson's auto was forced to the left side of the roadway, striking the parked car of Arlene Mizerski, 2900 Idaho St.

Kite's auto then allegedly left the scene south on Cleveland and at East 23rd Street went past a stop sign and collided with the eastbound car of Gary W. Stroud, 25, of 2014 Fourth St., Madison.

Kite allegedly told police he was looking in his rearview mirror at the previous accident when he became involved in the second accident.

A city manhole cover also was damaged during the crashes.

Kite was charged with leaving the scene, reckless driving, ignoring a stop sign, transportation of alcohol, driving while intoxicated and two counts of not having a driver's license.

Injured and taken to St. Elizabeth Medical Center were Kite, Stroud and Danny Caughron, 17, of 2871 Maison Ave., a passenger in Kite's auto.

Mineral Area Meet is one of Illinois' oldest

Belleville. The Mineral Area Meet began in 1935. But it wasn't in Belleville. It wasn't even close. Many local track experts think the meet started in Carbondale. But that wasn't the case. It did not move to Carbondale until 1940. The site of the first five Mineral Area meets was tiny Hurst-Bush High School, a few miles east of Carbondale. There isn't even a high school there anymore, students are bused to Carterville. The field supposedly got too large for the facilities at Carbondale, where it was run the next 28 years.

After that time, it moved to Parson's Field in East St. Louis.

Why East St. Louis, over 100 miles to the north?

"The teams from our area kept winning the thing," said Belleville West track coach Norman Armstrong. "It got so that

Steelers top Collinsville

By RICK WELLE

for the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — The Granite City North Steelers tried. And they tried again. But while they were getting a lot of baserunners, they just couldn't seem to chase anyone home.

But with a three-run burst in the fifth inning and one run each in the fourth and the sixth North upped its record to 2-1 with a win over Collinsville, 5-3, Wednesday afternoon in Granite City.

In the first inning the Steelers looked as if they were going to dominate at the plate. After Danny Patterson led off with a pop fly to third, Dennis Page singled up the middle and later stole second. Bob Batey walked, Mike Robertson fouled out to the first baseman.

Bob Ford had an infield hit when Kahok's second baseman Todd Miller made an excellent stop to keep the run from scoring, and the bases were loaded. Alan Schmidt then flied deep to center and the inning was over. No runs — two hits — three men left on base.

Again in the second inning North couldn't score when Rob Chapman was left on second after leading off with a double. And in the third the Warriors had runners on second and third with nobody out and still failed to cash in. "We left seven men on base in the first three innings, so I'd like to see us get a little more aggressive there," North coach Bob Stegemeier said. "But when you get five runs you can't complain."

Finally, in the fourth inning things started to fall into place for the Steelers. Chapman singled and stole second, then was driven in by Patterson, who doubled up the left field gap.

In the second inning Collinsville had taken a 1-0 lead on a double by Randy McEwen and two passed balls by catcher Schmidt. The Kahoks picked up another run in the top of the fifth when Dave Burg walked, stole second and later scored on a passed ball.

For Burg it was his second stolen base of the day and the fourth stolen base in two games. He had two against Cahokia at Collinsville Tuesday afternoon.

Then in the bottom of the fifth the fun really started. Losing pitcher Jeff McDaniel walked Batey, got Robertson on a fielder's choice to second, and then walked Ford and Schmidt to load the bases.

Chapman hit sharply to second, the ball took a bad hop and everything went wild. Robertson, Ford and Schmidt all scored before Chapman went down on the 4-2-4 pitter.

"I'll start with three walks," Collinsville coach Russ Keene said. "As I said before, if you can stay away from walks you can win — like we did against (Chicago) Marist and Cahokia."

"We were in trouble all day. I had a feeling they'd bust loose eventually. The three runs they did get I thought we handled the ball real well. It's just that their timing was perfect. It takes some aggressive baserunning to do that."

"After the play was over I kept looking around for men on base. I couldn't believe all that had scored," he said.

"We like to run the bases — be aggressive," Stegemeier said. "We get thrown out occasionally. But for every time we get thrown out I think we make up for it with aggressive baserunning."

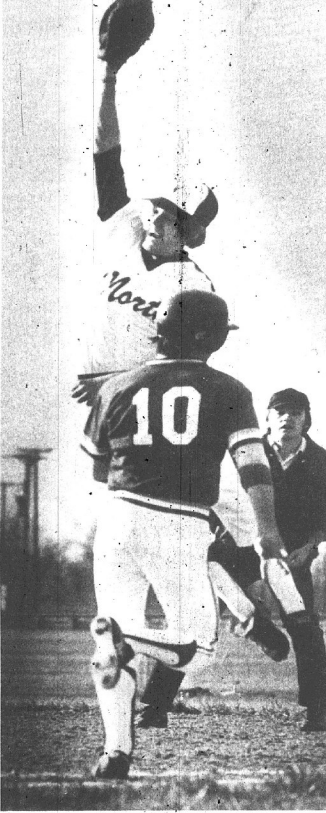

"McDaniel pitched real well. We should never have scored those three runs," he said. "But we didn't make many mistakes."

Keith Burton picked up the win in relief of Greg Faulkner and Steve Doty. Burton is 1-0.

In the sixth inning North picked up its final run when Patterson walked and Page and Batey both singled to right.

The Kahoks threatened in the top of the seventh when Keith Throm doubled to lead the inning off and Miller singled him home with two men on. Robert Sanabria walked, but Burton struck out Barry Wilson to end the game.

"I was pleased with the win 'cause we beat a good ball club," Stegemeier said with a healthy chew of tobacco to one side of his mouth. "The kids played well, we hit the ball well and we had a lot of runners on base."

S-T-R-E-T-C-H. North first baseman Dennis Page lunges for a high throw from shortstop Bob Batey in the second inning against Collinsville Wednesday afternoon. The Kahoks' Dave Burg advanced to second on the high throw, and Batey was charged with an error. The gift wasn't enough, however, as the Steelers won, 5-3. (Photo by Dave Schumaker)

South splits with Oilers

By KEVIN ALLEN

of the Press-Record
GRANITE CITY — Granite City South avenged a 1-0, extra-inning loss in the first game to Wood River with a 7-0 victory in the second game of a doubleheader here Wednesday night.

If it were later in the spring, perhaps South would have swept the twin-bill, but then again, every team has to start somewhere. The learning process begins anew each year.

The Warriors, for example, learned a lesson about base running from Wood River pitcher John Streep, who caught the Warriors napping three times in the opener.

The Oilier left-hander picked-off South runners at first base in the fifth, sixth, and seventh innings. Streep's little lesson played a critical role as the scoreless contest went into extra innings. Each time the Warriors were caught off base, a potential rally died.

"It's tough to lose 1-0 in nine innings," South coach Babe Champion said. "But we had our chances. We just didn't execute very well. None of the times when we were picked off were we trying to steal."

"Maybe, though, this will help. If we learn from this maybe it won't happen again."

The Warriors paid for their sins in the ninth inning when the Oilers put together three hits — one more than they had produced in the previous eight innings — and came up with a single run.

Wood River's Frank Monocaccia led off with a single to left and was chased around the diamond by singles from Phil Roggio and Kevin Cartee with a Warrior error sandwiched between. South had runners at first and second in the bottom of the ninth, but failed to score. "We left a lot of runners on base," Champion said. "We're doing pretty well defensively and we've been getting good pitching, but we're just not hitting the ball."

And the first game, at least was no exception. Streep, who pitched all but the last inning of the first game, held the Warriors to only four hits. He walked three batters, but after South lost three runners to Streep's pick-off and stranded six others, no one could complain about a lack of opportunity.

Had South been able to produce only one run it would have been enough, what with the performance of its pitchers. Starter Randy Cann turned in a hitless four innings, marred only by a walk in the third.

Tom McGowan followed and allowed one hit in two innings, as did Walt Stricker in the seventh, and Eighth. The winning run was scored off loser Darryl Harris who pitched the ninth.

In the second game many of the more experienced Warriors rested while some underclassmen got a chance in the spotlight. The result was a strongly, left-handed hitting line-up which jumped on the Oilers right-handed pitching immediately.

South scored twice in the first inning when Rich Cope's infield out brought home Hondo Ambuehl, who had led off the game with a double. Bruce Monahan then doubled home John Vrenick, who reached on a single.

Mizzou trips Cougars twice

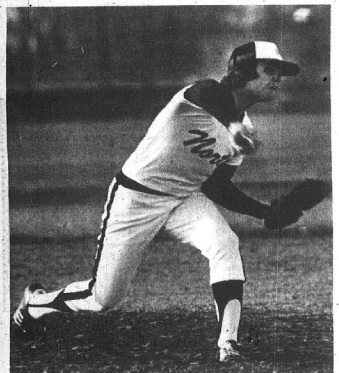

Special to

COLUMBIA, Mo. — The University of Missouri Tigers handed SIU-Edwardsville a double-defeat here Wednesday, winning the first game 5-0 and taking the nightcap 5-2.

In the first game, Mizzou's ace right-hander, Craig Fitzpatrick upped his individual record to 4-1 in hurling a four-hitter at the Cougars. The Tigers scored two runs in both the second and fourth innings and a lone tally in the sixth. Tom Ritzeheimer (3-2) took the loss for SIU-E.

In the second game, SIU-E took a 2-1 lead in the third inning, before Mizzou erupted for two runs in the bottom of the frame and took over in the sixth. The Tigers' top left-hander, Curt Moody raised his record to 5-1 with the win. Loser Doug Gremada fell to 1-1.

Southern's record fell to 6-10 with the losses, while Mizzou went to 19-9-1.

KEITH BURTON of Granite North hurled in relief here Wednesday in the 5-3 victory over Collinsville. He picked up the win, working the last three innings after ace Steve Doty started. (Photo by Pete Stehman)

SIU-E golf meet here

By DOUG IRVIN

for the Press-Record
EDWARDSVILLE — Friday and Saturday (April 4-5), 13 teams of five golfers will participate in the Ninth Annual Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville Invitational Golf Tournament. SIUE will enter two teams — A and B. Tee-off time for both days will be 11 a.m. Friday's round consists of 18 holes to be played at Arlington Golf Club near Granite City, and Saturday's round will take place at the Tamarack Country Club in O'Fallon.

Other schools entered are: Western Michigan University, Illinois State University, Eastern Illinois University, Western Illinois University, St. Louis University, University of Missouri, Eastern Illinois University, St. Louis College of Pharmacy, Bradley University, Indiana State University at Evansville, Principia College, and University of Wisconsin at Whitewater.

Any team that would like to play a practice round will be able to do so after 1 p.m. at either course (not both) free of charge Thursday. The other course may be walked through, according to SIUE Coach Harry Gallatin.

Each team will enter five golfers; from those, only four will be scored for the team points. SIUE's 10 linksmen are still shooting their qualifying rounds to see who will make the 'A' and 'B' teams.

Last weekend, SIUE was rained out of the University of Evansville Invitational. Two weeks ago, at the Gulf Coast Classic in Corpus Christi, Tex., SIUE finished first out of a field of 12 teams.

North frosh win tri-meet

CAHOKIA — The Granite City North freshman boys track team came away with a victory here Tuesday in triangular meet with Cahokia and Hughes-Quinn Junior High of East St. Louis. North, riding a strong performance in the field events, finished with 61 1-3 points to Cahokia's 60 1-3 and Hughes-Quinn's 54 1-3. The 1-3 points came from a log-jam deadlock in the high jump.

The Steeler freshmen had no individual winners in the track events, but had four firsts in the first events. That, combined with the second places in the running events, was just enough for the win.

North's Alan Pregel won two of the field events. He was tops in the long jump with a leap of 17 feet, 8". His distance of 39-11 was good for first place in the triple jump. Long of North finished second in the triple jump with a leap of 37-11.

North's Obenhaus and Gullien got points for the Steelers in the shot put and discus throw. Obenhaus won shot put with a toss of 44-1. Gullien was third. Gullien won the discus with a throw of 111-10. Obenhaus was second. In the pole vault, North's Dennis Laird was second with a height of 9 feet. Cahokia's Pearce was first at 10-6. Ron Methenia of Wood River was third. "Avery of Cahokia was the winner of the high jump at 4-10. North's Dean Comer and Farmer tied for second at 4-8. During the event, a gust of wind blew the inflatable high jump pit upside down, knocking the bar and supports over. After that, no jumper cleared the bar."

South scratches its way past Lindbergh

By PETE HAYES
Sports Editor
of the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Babe Champion was about to pull his hair out. The normally patient Granite City South head baseball coach could hardly believe what he was seeing.

In the first inning of South's game here Tuesday with Lindbergh High of St. Louis, the Flyers scored three runs on two South errors, two stolen bases and only one base hit. The South Warriors were pulling some doozies. After taking a 2-0 lead in the top of the inning, South fell behind 3-2 in the bottom (the game was originally scheduled for Lindbergh, but was moved to South because of wet grounds. South was actually the "visiting" team.).

But Champion regained his patience. And it paid off. The Warriors fought back on some gutsy base-running and clutch pitching to defeat the Flyers 4-3. South moved its record to 2-0 with the victory.

"We stole it, didn't we?" said Champion. "We scratch and claw for just about everything we get. But we're young. And we beat a good team today."

With a lineup dotted with sophomores and juniors, South jumped out to a quick lead in the top of the first inning. Third baseman Mark Clark drew a leadoff walk and moved to second on an infield out by second baseman Kevin Sykes. Shortstop Cope reached on a fielder's choice, which scored Clark. After Cope stole second base, designated hitter Bruce Monahan reached first when Lindbergh catcher Tony Rettinger held the ball after dropping a called third strike. The bases were loaded.

Left fielder Jim Lewis singled driving in Cope, following that center fielder Hondo Ambuehl was walked. But back came Lindbergh. Shortstop Van Stone doubled leading off, and scored when center fielder John Jag reached on an error by South's Clark. Right fielder John Larkin reached when South catcher Steve Ficker, after Larkin had struck out, turned around and flipped the baseball in the direction of the home plate umpire, as if the out had been the third of the inning. Jag scored on the play.

Larkin stole second and third and scored when he tagged up on a long fly ball off the bat of teammate Bollinger.

But that was all the Flyers got. South starting pitcher

John Vrenick worked the first five innings and picked up the victory. He was followed in the sixth by reliever McGowan and in the seventh by Monahan.

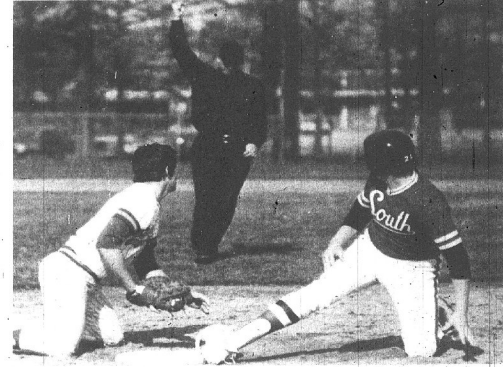

South tied the game in the bottom of the third inning. Cope led off with a double, went to third on a ground-out by Monahan and scored when Lewis reached on an error by the Lindbergh second baseman.

The Warriors scored the winning run in the fourth. Clark got a two-out double and scored when Lindbergh pitcher Tom Reed tried to pick him off second base and threw the ball into center field.

"We struggle for everything we get," laughed Champion. "But I expect to win every time we take the field. If we didn't, we'd have trouble."

"We're hurting in experience," he said. "We've only got six lettermen, and only three of them have very much varsity experience." On the subject of the game being moved from St. Louis to Granite City, Champion said, "They (Lindbergh) really wanted to play us," he said. "They're one of the top

BMX dates released for Collinsville track

GRANITE CITY — The schedule for the upcoming Bicycle Motocross (BMX) racing season at the Collinsville Bicycle Track has been announced.

All racing will be on Saturday, beginning April 12 at concluding Nov. 15. The Collinsville track is located off the Bellline Highway, near the intersection of Route 157 and the Bellline.

There will be four racing divisions this season, according to Jackie Sweet, secretary of the Collinsville BMX Club. The "Big Wheel" division is for youngsters age 6 and under and will feature the popular "big wheel" plastic tricycles. Each Saturday, trophies will be awarded to the top five finishers in the division, with ribbons to the second five.

Entry fee will be $3.50. The Beginners Division is for all riders who have never participated in a BMX race. Trophies will be awarded to the first place winner, with ribbons for the next nine. Once a rider wins a first place trophy, he must automatically move up to the next division — Novice.

The Novice Division is for riders who have previously raced, but have not yet attained the skill to race in the Expert Division. The Expert Division is the highest.

Trophies will be awarded to the first six places in both Novice and Expert divisions, with ribbons to the next four. The entry fee for "Big Wheel," Novice and Expert races is $3.50 per rider, plus a 50 cent gate fee, which is charges to all participants and spectators. The entry fee for Beginners Division is $2. Members of the National Bicycle League (NBL) will receive a 50 cent discount. Members of the Collinsville BMX Club will receive an additional 50 cent discount from their entry fees. Registration for each Saturday's races will begin at 10 a.m. the day of the race, with races following.

USSF referee unit established here

GRANITE CITY — Soccer referees in this area will no longer have to go to Chicago to obtain United States Soccer Federation Illinois licenses. A branch of the U.S.S.F.'s Chicago Illinois Referee Unit has been established for Southern Illinois.

Randy Sigite of Granite City has been appointed to head the Southern Illinois branch. The Southern Illinois branch extends from as far north as Litchfield to Cairo at the south.

The Southern Illinois branch will take care of examinations, licensing and assigning referees for U.S.S.F.-sanctioned teams which includes those in the Illinois Youth Soccer Association. All I.Y.S.A.-sanctioned teams must have U.S.S.F. referees.

The first public meeting of the Southern Illinois branch will be Wednesday, April 9, 7:30 p.m. in the St. Elizabeth Church basement in Granite City. The first referee exam will be Wednesday, April 23, same time at the same location.

Anyone interested in obtaining further information may call Sigite at 797-6523.

Motocross — Dangerous, fun

BOB MILKOVICH

By TOM SCHOCKER
for the Press-Record

GRANITE CITY — Taking turns with precise accuracy, executing jumps with relative ease and making a whoop-te-doo look like child's play. He performs these skills with nothing but the wind in his face and the feel of a machine in his hands. Couple these feats with a hard rugged dirt terrain and one has the experience of motocross riding.

In the world of motorcycle riding, the mastery of this type of riding might take years of practice to perfect in order to establish the credentials of an expert.

But for a 17-year-old Granite City rider the dream of such a goal has finally become a reality.

Bob Milkovich, a junior at Granite City High School South, has been riding some form of a motorcycle for the past 10 years and all that time devoted to practice has at long last paid off. Driving a Yamaha YZ 125, Milkovich, riding in the motocross circuit, has been designated as an expert in this field of cycle racing.

The establishment of such a high degree of ability is not the type of thing that occurs overnight. Bob relates his strive for excellence from the very first bike he owned (or rather in which he shared). "My dad bought a mini-bike when I was about seven," said Milkovich, "and my sister and I had to share it. He didn't like us going off by ourselves, but there were times when my sister would leave the bike running to go in the house and I would jump on it and take off."

Milkovich's progression of bikes found him with a Yamaha 80 two years later. "I would go trail riding a lot," said Milkovich, "and got pretty good on it; so my dad bought me a Yamaha 100, which was a larger bike."

At this point thoughts of racing were entering into Bob's mind, but such ideas were far from his parents. "I knew a friend who I would ride the trails with," said Milkovich, "and we raced, but my parents didn't like the idea of me racing so my friend had to talk them into it. He told them that I was a good rider and if I would ride in a race I would win."

With the consent of his parents, Bob entered his first race in 1977 at the age of 14, on a course of woods and cross country, and you know something, his friend was right. Bob Milkovich placed first. The taste of victory was

In the number one singles match, South's Tom Longos lost to East's Ted Witkus in straight sets, 6-4, 6-3. East's Joe Carter won the number two singles match from South's George Sykes 6-4, 6-0.

In the doubles competition, South's Schumacher and Terry Malench were defeated by Carter and Witkus in straight sets, 6-2, 6-2.

South got its lone doubles victory when Sykes and Menendez teamed up to defeat East's Dave Kirchhoff and Farmer 7-5, 6-0 in the number two match. In the number three doubles duel, East's Steve Kunz and Dave Movencstein defeated South's Don Cook and Paul Eileff 6-3, 6-3.

The next action for South's 13 netters will be Monday at home against Gateway East Conference foe Cahokia at 4 p.m.

Nesbitt wins

BELLEVILLE — Granite City's Sam Nesbitt was the overall winner here Sunday in the Central Raider Benefit Run, a five-mile race through the streets of Belleville.

Nesbitt, a graduate of Granite City South and former runner on the Southern Illinois University-Edwardsville cross country and track teams, is now assistant girls track coach at SHS as a graduate student.

Nesbitt's time was 28:18.0 in a pouring rain.

"Red" Schmitt of Godfrey, head wrestling coach at Granite City High School South, was the winner of the Over 50 age group.

SIU-E Odds & Ends ... by Al Barnes

Spring showers bring delays

EDWARDSVILLE — Already the baseball team at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville has been rained out of six games due to rainy weather. The spring showers may bring the flowers, but all they do to the collegiate coach is make problems and create vexation.

Collegiate coaches, consequently for many years have complained and roiled about the problem, but nothing has ever been done, constructively, that is.

However, it isn't only the rained-out games messing up their schedules' which annoy the coaches — the main problem is keeping their players in shape.

Counting two post-plementations of the (twinkl) with the University of Missouri,
 St. Louis Rivermen, the 5-7 Cougars of Coach Bo Collins were rained out of a pair of doubleheaders at Louisville, Ky., this past weekend: two with Bellarmine College on Saturday and a twin bill with the Cardinals of Louisville U. Sunday.

In danger was Wednesday's doubleheader at Columbia, Mo., against the high-flying Tigers of the University of Missouri, who are now 16-6 for the season. It is one of the best starts Coach Gene McArthur's Tigers have ever racked up.

However, they solved part of their "rain out" problem by traveling to Hawaii to play in that state's tournament, where they finished second behind the host school with a tourney mark of 5-3.

Mizzou should have been in fine shape for its meeting with the Cougars since the Tigers arrived home from the Islands Monday morning.

The Big Eight Conference, which Missouri won last year, may have come up with a solution to the wet weather spring baseball seasons.

Starting next season, 1981, the Big Eight will play a summer season.

The summer season should solve a lot of problems for collegiate baseball programs. Most important, of course, is the already mentioned rainy diamond problem.

 But, there are many more. Probably the most important is the shortened spring season due to another comparatively recent development on the college baseball scene caused by the early conclusion of the school year throughout much of the nation. Many American colleges now have their academic year completed by mid-May.

So, now a majority of collegiate baseball schools are currently playing the tail end of their schedules.

From this corner, then, it appears that the Major League clubs have a really big stake in seeing to it that summer baseball works.

Why, you ask? Because with the gear extinction of the minor league college baseball is the last remaining hope for the survival of the sport.

My attempts to get a statement from the Baseball Commissioner's office and from the Cardinals' top man, John Claiborne, on summer league play and additional funding from organized baseball met with an angry, "Map, you know what we're facing now?"

Meaning, of course, the threatened strike by the Players' Association.

Mineral

there were more teams from around here in the meet than from deep Southern Illinois. It made more sense to move up here and let the few teams from down there come up.

The meet was held in East St. Louis two years' and moved from there to Cahokia, where it was held the next two years.

 From there, it moved to Belleville East's Tartan-Turf track, where it has been ever since. Even though the meet is held at East High, the official host is Belleville West.

"The artificial track had a lot to do with it coming here," said Armstrong. "The

weather this time of year is so unpredictable, it just made sense (for us) to have it."

The field this season compares favorably with any prep meet in the state according to Armstrong. "Of course, East St. Louis and (East St. Louis) Lincoln have a lot to do with the strength of the field," he said.

"But there are several strong individuals from other schools who'll be here."

The other schools entered in this season's meet are Cahokia, Belleville West, Belleville East, Granite City South, Granite City North, Madison, Alton, Edwardsville, Collins-
 ville, Bethalto, Roxana, Mount Vernon,
 Harrisburg, Springfield
 Southeast, Belleville Althoff, Highland and Triad.

The number of teams from deep Southern Illinois, you will notice, is small — two. "Usually, Centralia comes over," said Armstrong, "and sometimes, Carbondale or Benton will come up.
 But Centralia is in school the day of the meet and the others, I guess, decided not to make it this

for team honors would have to be East St. Louis.
 But Armstrong thinks Lincoln could battle the Flyers for the top spot.

"Lincoln's right up there with them now," he said.
 "They (Lincoln) should be the co-favorites."

Besides the battle for the top spot, a fight could emerge for the next few positions. "We (West) could be in there, and Cahokia is very strong this year. Both Granite schools are strong, too.

There'll be some great individual talent here."

Among the top prep runners featured at the meet will be Nick Whiteside of Mt. Vernon in the mile and two mile.
 He currently has the 13th-fastest time in the state in the two-mile (9:30.73).

Strike Sokolowicz of Thornton has the fastest,
 9:11.12.

Another top distance performer will be Granite City South's Dave Houston, who has the 22nd-fastest time in the state this season in the 1,000 meter run (2:24.7).

Ron Bartholmey of Homewood-Flossmoor has the fastest in this season, 2:16.27. Kevin Forrest of East St. Louis Sr. has the 15th-fastest time in the state in the 1,000 meters, 2:28.5.

Motocross

Just the initiative for Bob to further his racing dates to twice a month and soon he was hitting the courses every Sunday in a different variety of races.

"In '78 I raced pretty much," said Milkovich,
 "but in '79 I got serious and wanted to really go all out for it."

Progressing to the Class 125, which is the type of bike, Bob competed in the entire 1979 racing season. "I'm pretty a motocrosser," said Milkovich.

"Now that I'm qualified as an expert I will be trying to compete in the qualifying races for nationals. I've been really working hard for them."

Bob's taste for competition will take him into Districts, where one must accumulate a certain number of points to get an area qualification.

Taking the 13 top area riders, Bob would then travel to Iowa for Regional racing and finally to Minnesota for Nationals.

From that very first triumph only three years ago, Milkovich's excellence has put him above and beyond all expectations. Since 1978 he has collected 66
 trophies with the majority of the replacing being, naturally, firsts and seconds. "I think my lowest placing has been a fifth," said Milkovich.

The racing season for Bob begins in March and concludes in November, but with all the practicing and racing where does this talented young rider find time to hit the books?

"I don't get to do much homework," said Milkovich. "I know I should, but I concentrate so much on Sundays and I keep worrying about the races and not on homework. Studies are more important, I know, but it's really hard to stay with them."

Milkovich's dedication to his racing abilities has earned the trust that was once questioned by his mom and dad. "My parents worried that I might get hurt," said Milkovich, "but now they don't mind as much."

In fact Bob's father has provided the needed funding for his racing endeavors. "My dad buys all my bikes," commented Milkovich. Bob's collection of racing machines includes a set of four Yamaha cycles. "I have a 1980 YZ 125 for racing, a 1979 YZ 125 for practice, a 1978 DT 125 for the street and a AT 125 that I use for trails." Bob added, "Even though my parents have helped me with my bikes, they really can't put out that much money any more. With the gas prices, it's kind of hard I do buy all my own parts and pay for my entry fees to races. But whenever I'm short on money, my dad helps me out. You have to have money to do what I'm doing."

The efforts put forth by Milkovich will surely help his situation. With the distinction of a semi-professional, Bob's racing achievements will now earn him prize money which he feels is one step closer to his ultimate goal. "I am really trying to become a professional," said Milkovich, "with that I can get a factory sponsorship with a company like Yamaha."

The rate of achievement that Bob Milkovich is progressing is only expressed one way
 — If one wants something bad enough, he will go out and get it. "I've always wanted to do some kind of motocross racing," said Milkovich.

And to think, just because little sis had something more important in the house

PONDEROSA'S PLAYER OF THE WEEK

GRANITE CITY —
 When a track team does well in an invitational meet, it is seldom because of the efforts of one of two individual athletes. It's because of a strong overall team effort.

That was the case last Saturday when Granite City North Steeler track team finished a strong third in the Belleville East Invitational Relays.

For that reason, the Stealers have been chosen as this week's Press-Record — Ponderosa
 Player(s) of the Week.

North coach Harry Lang watched as his squad used its excellent depth to finish third, but barely out of second and first.

The meet was won by a strong Cahokia team, one which will have to battle (along with Granite South) for the Gateway East Conference championship later this season.

Granite South also had a strong performance, placing fifth with a team made up mostly of varsity members (both fresh-soph and varsity results counted toward team's scores).

But the honors this week go to Granite North, which made its strongest showing ever at the East Relays and one which it hopes will carry over into the rest of the season.

Matthew 28:5-6

"And the angel answered and said unto the women, Fear not ye: for I know that ye seek Jesus, which was crucified. He is not here: for he is risen, as he said."

Christ was crucified. A sorrowful, historical fact. A man that came from God. His labor was to bring a message of God's love. He healed the sick, cast out demons, raised the dead, and set the captive free. He harmed no one. He owned nothing. He wanted nothing, except to reveal God our Father through himself. Yet he was crucified.

The crucifixion of Jesus brought much grief. Rivers of tears were shed because of his death. But the unselfish giving of His life to save those who will believe, has inspired literally hundreds of thousands of his followers to lay down their lives also.

However, now we see what wisdom God did use through Mount Calvary. For without the death of Jesus, there could not have been so glorious a happening as the Resurrection of Jesus! Nor could there have been any meaning to John 3:16: "For God so loved the world that he gave his only begotten Son, that whosoever believeth in Him should not perish, but have everlasting life." The whole of Christianity is founded upon these miraculous events: the birth, death, burial, and resurrection of our Saviour Jesus Christ.

The faithful followers of Jesus came to His tomb to see where he was buried. But instead, they were greeted by the Angel of the Lord. The Angel had a message for the believers. A powerful message! A glorious message! An awe-shaking, life-changing, powerful, unspoken message of conquest over Satan. HE IS NOT HERE, HE IS RISEN!

Christ is alive! He is risen triumphant over the grave. He has defeated Satan, death, hell, and the grave. All praise to His name!

Now, as great as was the sorrow, greater still is the rejoicing. Our Saviour lives!

We may truly rejoice because the Bible states: "Because He lives, we shall live also."

We can be victorious through Christ our Lord.

OUR LIVING LORD. Have a good week.

Pack 13 celebrates scouting anniversary

Cub Scout Pack 13 of St. Elizabeth Church celebrated the 50th anniversary of Cub Scouting at its annual blue and gold banquet in the school cafeteria. The evening opened with the meal prayer given by Ray Gaudette, unit commissioner.

A potluck dinner was served to all scouts, their families and guests. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gaudette, Ron Luebber, Mr. and Mrs. Ted Scrump and Marvin Wiedner, scoutmaster, Troop 13.

John Kromroy, cubmaster, welcomed everyone and led the group in singing "happy birthday" in honor of the 50th year of cub scouting. He then introduced Ron Luebber, district commissioner, who talked about how cub scouting began and also about the "Farnell De Award", available to Catholic cub scouts.

Ray Gaudette praised the pack and its accomplishments. Scrump talked of the Lincoln pilgrimage in Springfield on April 27 and said all scouts, families and friends can participate.

William Rimmel, assistant cubmaster, presented awards to the following cubs: Den 3 - Dennis Derosett, bobcat badge; wolf badge were presented to Robert McKinney, David Plantz, Michael Kromroy, Mark Craze, John Dumoulin, Ben Heintz from Den 1, Dan Niles, Mike Patterson and Jerry Thompson from Den 2, and Stephen Uram from Den 3. Examine Fairmount Park operations after 6 are charged in 'fixed' race

The Illinois Racing Board is examining the way races are overseen at Fairmount Park Race Track, as the result of recent indictments stemming from a Jan. 8 incident in which an attempt was allegedly made to "fix" a triquetra race.

A spokesman for the racing board said Thursday in connection with that incident, bringing the total number arrested in connection with the Jan. 8 incident to six.

Vincent E. Proia, 23, Watertown, Mass., surrendered to a court in his hometown Thursday on an Illinois warrant alleging conspiracy to commit a corrupt act. Proia is a licensed horse owner and is the husband of the trainer of record of one of the horses who are investigating changes for overseeing races at Fairmount will be issued by the board's area representative, Richard Garrett, soon.

Two more men were arrested Thursday afternoon in connection with the incident, bringing the total number arrested in connection with the Jan. 8 incident to six.

A Madison County grand jury March 26 returned indictments against six persons allegedly involved in the "fix" of the triquetra. The plan failed when one of the drivers failed to finish in his prescribed position, altering the outcome of the triquetra. The DCI spokesman explained.

Four of the men were arrested Wednesday at the track on various charges related to the alleged scheme to control the outcome of the triquetra.

The DCI spokesman said he could not comment on whether the indictments were the result of an isolated incident or whether a deeper investigation is underway.

Richard Simon Behler, 47, St. Louis, surrendered at 5:30 p.m. Friday to Madison County Circuit Judge Victor J. Mosse in Edwardsville, after his attorney, Robert Rice, negotiated a reduced bond for him.

Behler is charged with intimidation and four counts of unlawful corrupt acts (bribery).

Bond had been set at $105,000, but Judge Mosse reduced it to $50,000 during a hearing with Rice. Behler then turned himself in. The DCI spokesman said he is the only one of the six who was indicted who was not involved in the racetrack's operations.

Store woollens properly to prevent insect damage

By CATHERINE R. MAUCK
Madison County Extension
Adviser, Home Economics

Fabric-eating insects are getting ready to feast on improperly stored woollens.

But you can prevent insect damage by storing garments in airtight containers with moth-killing materials.

Clothes moths and carpet beetles eat wool, other animal-fiber fabrics and feathers. Carpet-beetle larvae also feed heavily on wool-synthetic blends.

The type of blend determines the type of damage. In blends containing separate woolen and synthetic yarns, the carpet-beetle larvae eat the wool yarn and leave the synthetic yarn untouched.

But when wool and synthetics are blended in one yarn, the larvae eat the entire yarn even though it contains a synthetic fiber.

A few fabric-eating insects are present in most homes. They live in hard-to-clean places, such as in heating vents and behind radiators and baseboards, feeding on lint and hair deposits.

To keep woollens safe from damage, follow these procedures:

Dry clean or wash woollens and place them in clean, plastic storage bags or other insect-tight containers. Dry cleaning or washing will kill all stages of fabric pests.

Before storing woollens that are not dry-cleaned or washed, hang them in bright sunlight for a full day and brush them thoroughly.

When brushing, pay particular attention to the insides of pockets as well as cuffs and folds.

If your storage area is not insect-tight — and most closets, trunks and boxes are not — vacuum the area thoroughly and spray all inside surfaces lightly with an insecticide that contains 0.5 percent diazinon or chlorpyrifos (Dursban).

Be sure to remove all articles of clothing and other items from the closet before you spray. Do not replace clothes until the spray has dried. When the spray dries, it leaves a deposit that kills insects that come in contact with it.

Some wool clothing and household articles have a moth-proof finish applied by the manufacturer. Also, many dry-cleaning establishments offer moth-proofing services.

Cedar-lined chests and closets are usually insect-tight, but all fabrics or other articles to be stored need to be insect free. The cedar-oil vapors destroy small larvae, but do not kill the larger ones.

If you have had your cedar chest or cedar-lined closet for several years, scatter moth fumigants like naphthalene or PDB in the chest for added protection.

Use one pound of crystals, flakes or balls for every 100 cubic feet of storage space. Do not use fumigant materials if small children are present.

Good housekeeping practice will help reduce the numbers of clothes moths and carpet beetles. Clean your house frequently to prevent lint and hair from accumulating, especially behind radiators, baseboards, heating vents and closets, as well as beneath large furniture and other hard-to-get-at places.

If such places become infested, a light application of a 0.5 percent diazinon or chlorpyrifos spray will solve the problem. Keep children and pets away from the sprayed area until it is dry.

Encourage savings, investment, production

By Senator
Charles H. Percy

The Administration's latest attempt to stem the tide of raging inflation is yet another sad example of "too little, too late" in the now losing battle against economic chaos.

For the past three years, the Administration has presided over one economic disaster after another. No guiding principles chart a course for growth and stability.

The litany of economic failures is all too familiar to every American who wages a lonely battle against soaring prices and interest rates.

But one fact stands out. We cannot beat inflation through on-again, off-again policies that opt for a quick fix instead of a tough cure.

Inflation is the number-one domestic crisis we face. It must be stopped and then reversed.

It is destroying the purchasing power and standard of living of the American people and is steadily eroding the economic and social foundations of our nation.

Inflation is causing taxes to rise as a percentage of income for most American families; it is driving up the cost of government; it is weakening our competitive position in the world.

It is encouraging spending instead of saving. And it is robbing us of our ability to plan for the future, thereby stifling capital investment and modernization of the U.S. industrial machine. Against this, consider the utter bankruptcy of the President's latest proposal. It is built on the astounding belief that we can beat inflation by limiting spending cuts in a $629 million budget to $13 billion, a reduction of only two percent, and by raising taxes by $25 billion when Americans are already subjected to the biggest peacetime tax bite in history.

What, then, is the best way to put the brakes on inflation? How can we fight both the short-term and long-term battle to build the nation's economy?

1. We must balance the budget by cutting $25 billion in federal spending, not the $13 billion cut suggested by the president. This will require sacrifice across the board. And it goes without saying that there is no place for new spending programs.

2. We must provide tax incentives to encourage saving and investment by both individuals and business. Today, the nation is on a spending spree with inadequate money in the bank. We must reverse that trend by making it attractive to save and invest.

3. We must slash imports of expensive foreign oil, though an increased federal gasoline tax that would be rebated directly to consumers and not deposited in the federal treasury for spending.

I am confident that Congress will make the deep spending cuts required to balance the budget. And the money can no longer come from the printing presses in Washington. It must come from Americans themselves, who in turn will reap the benefits of a healthy economy.

The economic drain of expensive oil imports, now approaching a staggering $100 billion a year, is one of our most serious problems.

Each increase in oil prices imposed by foreign nations fuels inflation and makes America weaker.

To encourage conservation we should increase the federal gasoline tax. But the money should be funneled back to consumers through a rebate system that is both sensible and fair.

It would be a serious mistake to put the money in a so-called contingency fund for federal spending. This approach would only make inflation worse.

These steps — balance the budget, encourage saving, investment and productivity, and reduce foreign oil imports — should be the foundation of the national fight against inflation.

Together, they make up a sound economic policy that speaks honestly to the needs of a problem that requires less talk and more action.

Elderhostel to bring 'seniors' to colleges

SIUE will be one of a group of colleges and universities sponsoring the Elderhostel program, visited by senior citizens during the summer. Elderhostel, a national selection of learning experiences for older Americans on college campuses, where they share living quarters and dining facilities with traditional students.

For a minimal charge, senior citizens can enroll in as many as three non-credit courses a week at each campus, where they share living quarters and dining facilities with traditional students.

For example, while they are attending classes on the SIUE campus this summer, senior citizens will enjoy the lake shore living of Tower Lake Housing, taking their meals at the University Center.

The local program is planned for the week of Aug. 10.

This will be the first time that SIUE has held an Elderhostel program. Courses to be offered on the local campus include: "The View from the River—Then and Now," "Fun With Computers" and "Both Sides of the Footlights."

The first class will explore the cultural history of both sides of the Mississippi River, from the ancient Chokila Mounds site to the modern Gateway Arch in downtown St. Louis. The course is largely composed of interpretive field trips and will include a boat ride up the Mississippi River.

"Fun With Computers" will introduce the world of computers. The older students will learn how the computer works by playing simulation games, including a history game called "A Trip Over the Oregon Trail."

"Footlights" will give the hostellers a chance to enjoy the theater from literally both sides of the footlights—from the viewing of a dance troupe, opera company, and theater production to gaining insight into backstage operations. There will be opportunities for senior citizens to participate in theater activities.

With the deadline for registration still over a month away, more than 20 senior citizens have already reserved a place in the classroom. People will be coming to the local campus from as far away as Minnesota, Florida and New York.

A few spaces have been reserved for local senior citizens, Clyde Fisher said. For those who will live on the campus during the week that the program is in progress, registration for courses, room and board will be $130.

The registration is much less for those intending to commute to the campus from local communities.

Last year, a record 14,000 older adults representing 30 states enrolled in Elderhostel classes on college campuses.

This year, 305 institutions in all 50 states and two Canadian provinces, Ontario and New Brunswick, will be offering the experience, with an expected 20,000 enrollment.

Fisher said it is not unusual for senior citizens to combine their summer vacations with the Elderhostel, opt for Elderhostel classes in lieu of a vacation, or spend the summer traveling from one campus to another.

Additional information concerning the program either at SIUE or at other campuses across the nation may be obtained by calling Fisher at the SIUE Office of Continuing Education, 602-3210.

Indecency is alleged

Clayton D. House, 31, Washington Park, was charged with public indecency and Michael E. Beland, 28, also of Washington Park, was charged with lewd conduct after the two allegedly bothered two men and a woman in the 1400 block of Madison Avenue at 6:30 p.m. Monday.

A resident of that block reported that he, his wife and his brother had just arrived in front of his home when a car stopped and two men and a woman got out of the car, drinking beer.

One of the men exposed himself in full view of the three and acted in an obscene manner, yelling obscenities at the three, saying there was nothing they could do about it, the victims alleged.

The woman victim said she was going to call the police and the man who was exposing himself, allegedly shouting obscenities at them.

When they went in the house to call police, the companion of the man who had exposed himself went to the door of the victim's house, demanded he come outside and fight and cursed and yelled at him, police were told.

The trio then got in the car and drove a short distance, but the men then got out again and yelled at the owner of the house to come outside and fight, it was alleged.

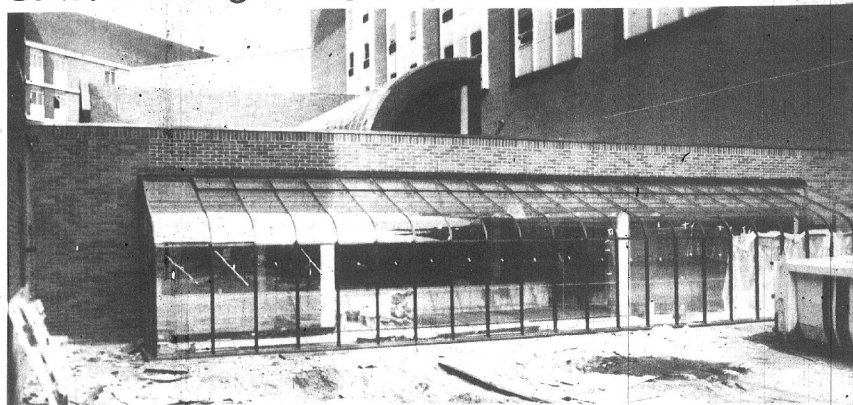

A short time later, the men returned to the car and drove toward Madison. A Madison policeman stopped the car in that city and turned the three over to Granite City police.

SCHOOL RANSACKED
Officials of Nameoki School, 1620 Pontoon Road, discovered Monday that someone had entered the school and turned off all electric power, stopping the electric clocks at 9 p.m. Sunday. Several teachers' desks were ransacked and papers thrown on the floor, but nothing is known missing and there was no apparent damage. No signs of forced entry could be found.

Ways to get tax deadline extension

Taxpayers who need extra time to file their income tax returns may request an automatic two-month extension by filing a Form 4868 with the Internal Revenue Service.

Form 4868 is the "Application for Automatic Extension of Time to File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return." The taxpayer must compute the tax expected to be owed for 1979.

Any prepayments of tax from withholdings or estimated tax payments, etc., should be deducted from the tax. Payment of any balance due must be sent with Form 4868 to the IRS on or before the normal filing date.

Taxpayers who receive the extension, cannot use the Form 1040A or have the IRS compute their tax bill. They must file a Form 1040. And the amount of estimated tax paid with the Form 4868 should be entered on the appropriate line of the Form 1040.

If the amount of tax paid with Form 4868 does not cover the taxpayer's total liability, the taxpayer is required to pay interest on the remaining tax due. Further, if the unpaid tax is over 10 percent of the total tax bill, the law permits levy of additional penalties on the taxpayer.

U.S. citizens outside the U.S. or Puerto Rico on the date of their tax deadlines can receive an automatic two-month extension of the filing deadline without filing Form 4868. This provision applies both to taxpayers whose deadline is April 15 and to those who file returns on a fiscal year basis.

Taxpayers who qualify for this type of extension must attach a statement to their tax return when they file that says they were outside the U.S. or Puerto Rico on the date of their filing deadline.

Taxpayers who expect to file Form 2550, "Declaration from or Exclusion of, Income Earned Abroad," can obtain an extension of time until 30 days after the end of their qualifying period.

These taxpayers should use Form 2550, "Declaration from or Exclusion of, Income Earned Abroad," if moving expenses are involved, extra time can be obtained by following the special instructions of the Form 2550.

Additional extensions are granted only under unusual circumstances. Taxpayers can apply for such extensions by letter or by filling out Form 2688, "Application for Extension of Time to File U.S. Individual Income Tax Return." The statement must include the reasons why the additional extension is necessary.

The IRS cautions taxpayers to file requests for additional extensions early enough to be able to file the return on time if the request is rejected.

GC North graduates plan 5-year reunion

A planning committee for the 1975 Granite City High School North graduates have set Aug. 16 for the first class reunion, according to the committee announcement.

The committee requests everyone planning on attending to send a $5 check in advance to Class Reunion, P.O. Box 935, Nameoki Station, Granite City, Ill. 62040.

The advance payment will be applied towards the cost of tickets set at $25 for a couple and $12.50 per person, it was noted.

Aggressive plans are to include a catered dinner at Engelbert Hall, Madison, followed by entertainment for the evening.

For more information those interested are advised to contact John Royce at 877-6981.

Spring star gazing party

A spring star party, sponsored by the St. Louis Astronomical Society, will be held Saturday, April 12, at Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville.

The party, free and open to any interested star gazer, will begin an hour after dark at the William C. Shaw SkyLab off Bluff Road on the campus. The "cloud-out" date is April 19.

Professor of physics at SIUE, said the amateur astronomers will be looking at "whatever's there," rather than any specific celestial event.

"It will also be a good chance for people to see a variety of telescopes and talk to their owners," he said.

The last star party at SIUE attracted up to 16 models of telescopes, in addition to binoculars, photographic equipment, charts and other viewing aids.

Weekly viewing sessions will continue at the Shaw SkyLab on Thursdays, beginning an hour after dark, sponsored by the local university's physics department. The informal sessions offer help with star identifications, use of viewing equipment, and advance notice of meteor showers and other seasonal events.

Additional information is available from Jeanine Myer, skyLab coordinator, at 692-3075.

EAST 28TH BURGLARY

Ralph Hall, 2664 E. 28th St., returned home at 8:45 p.m. Monday to find several lights on and his home and rear door open. The front door knobs had been twisted off. He apparently frightened the burglar away because the only thing missing was a black picture frame containing $1.75 worth of Bicentennial coins. Other items were left in plain view. Two bedrooms had been entered and the drawers searched.

Baseball 1980 is due to get underway soon

Play ball! It's been a long winter for the millions of TV sports fans who yearn for baseball. But the 1980 season is finally due to get underway. Opening Day for the 12 National League teams and 14 American League teams begins a chase that lasts until the World Series in October. Game 7 of the 1979 Series drew the most TV viewers in baseball history — about 80 million.

The world champion Pittsburgh Pirates (NL) and the Baltimore Orioles (AL) remain the teams to beat. They'll get much of the media attention, of course.

ABC begins its regular network broadcasts of major league baseball in June with more Monday night games. But it will switch in August to a series of late-season Sunday games in an effort to capture higher ratings. This month NBC is renewing its "Saturday Game of the Week" telecasts. As usual, many of the network and local broadcasters are former baseball players. But there's a difference this season. It's the recent election of Al Kaline and Duke Snider to the Hall of Fame.

Kalpine and Snider bring five the number of Hall of Famers currently working in broadcast booths. The others: Early Wynn with the Toronto Blue Jays, Lou Boudreau with the Chicago Cubs and Ralph Kiner with the New York Mets.

A broadcast career is not unusual for great stars of the game. Among other Hall of Fame members who worked in radio or television after their careers were Roy Campanella, Dizzy Dean, Joe DiMaggio, Whitey Ford, Frankie Frisch, Harry Heilmann, Waite Hoyt, Walter Johnson, Sandy Koufax, Mickey Vernon, Robin Roberts, Jackie Robinson and Pie Traynor.

For those who appreciate such oddities, Al Kaline has one of the "cleanest" year-by-year records in the books. He never played in the minor leagues and spent his entire career with "Detroit, A.L." Among modern players, only Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs, Bob Feller of Cleveland and Ted Lyons of Detroit have similar situations, although Feller did lose some time to military service. Sandy Koufax never pitched in the minor leagues, but his franchise moved from Brooklyn to Los Angeles during his career.

THURSDAY

Marc Singer stars in "The Contender," a new dramatic series about boxing that premieres with a special 90-minute episode on Thursday, April 3, on CBS. Tina Andrews guest stars as an assistant trainer. (PREMIERE)

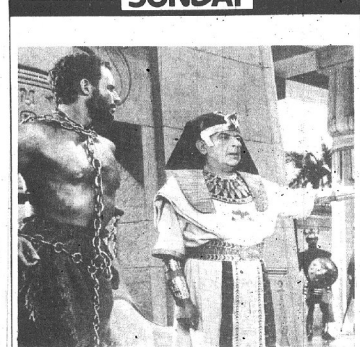

FRIDAY

A PBS series of documentary programs by independent film and video makers, called "Non Fiction Television," will begin on Friday, April 4, with an examination of Los Angeles County policemen. (PREMIERE)

(Stations reserve the right to make last-minute changes.)

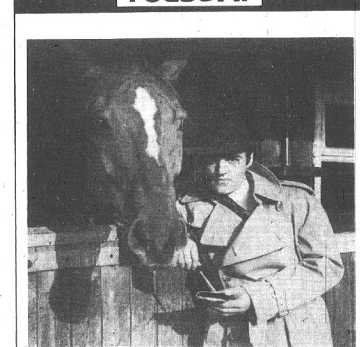

SUNDAY

Charlton Heston, in his classic portrayal of Moses, with Sir Cedric Hardwicke, stars in the epic film spectacular, "The Ten Commandments," airing on "The ABC Sunday Night Movie" on April 6. (REPEAT)

TUESDAY

Physical and mental anguish as a prelude to triumph is a basic theme taken from Dick Francis' popular fiction and earnestly translated into PBS's "The Racing Game," the next offering of "Mystery!" Tuesday, April 8. Starring Michael Gwynn.

Public to give Health Day focus its opinions on metric system —smoking hazards

Members of the U.S. Metric Board will give area residents the opportunity to voice an opinion concerning conversion to the metric system at public forums.

The 17-member board will be meeting in St. Louis as a part of the group's national 1980 tour.

The Metric Board was established by Congress to plan and coordinate the increasing use of the metric system in the United States.

While here, it will transact business to meet this objective, and will hear opinions and feedback from the public.

Meetings will be held at the Alfonso J. Cervantes Convention Center, Room 267, from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. on April 17 and from 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. on April 18.

Presentations by individuals representing selected industries will be delivered from 9 a.m. to 11 a.m. on April 17, followed by the open forum portion of the meeting, at which individuals are invited to ask questions or state opinions.

The U.S. Metric Board is composed of presidential appointees, confirmed by the Senate to represent consumers, labor, retail, education, large and small business, engineering, science, and state and local government.

According to the chairman of the board, Dr. Louis F. Polk, due to the voluntary nature of metric conversion in the U.S., the board relies heavily on programs of public education and information.

"Our goal is to familiarize every citizen with the metric system so that the conversion process may proceed without causing unnecessary disruption or hardship to industry, group or individual."

Prior to the open forum on April 17, the board will hear testimony from metric proponents and opponents from this metropolitan area.

ERA is to be meeting topic
The Illinois Religious Committee for ERA, with the ERA Center in Alton, will present "People of Faith for ERA" on Sunday, April 13.

Sonia Johnson of Mormons for ERA, and Mervyn Friedler, national coordinator of Catholics Act for ERA, and Rev. Virgil Santee of the American Baptist Church will speak about the Equal Rights Amendment from a religious perspective.

The program will be held in Alton at College Avenue Presbyterian Church on Sunday at 2 p.m. Sunday, April 13, and 7 p.m. Sunday, April 14. The First Presbyterian Church of Belleville on Highway 161 at Royal Heights Road.

The public is being invited to attend.

Illinois Lung Association "Smoking," says the World Health Organization, "is probably the largest single preventable cause of ill health in the world." This "epidemic" will be the focus of World Health Day on April 7.

In this country, the American Lung Association is one of the major organizations promoting the day.

"Epidemics of bubonic plague and cholera, those great waves of disease, used to start in the Orient and spread progressively to the West, killing millions in their path," says Dr. Keith Ball of the United Kingdom in support of this year's World Health Day.

"Today a new epidemic, smoking, is sweeping the West and spreading as deadly as the earlier plagues, threatens the world."

Its effects are less obvious and its growth more insidious. Yet, its cause is known and its spread is encouraged by those who are interested in its expansion."

At the beginning of this century, the American Lung Association worked to combat the nation's chief killer, tuberculosis, then called the "White Plague."

Now 75 years later, the association is fighting another plague that kills 350,000 Americans each year. It is encouraging everyone who smokes to "kick the habit" and it has developed special programs in schools to help convince youngsters to stay non-smokers for a lifetime.

About smoking, Dr. Ball says, "Although the infection has spread far and infiltrated nearly every corner of the earth, timely action can yet halt its progress and lessen the numbers of children who acquire the habit and are eventually killed or crippled by its effects."

It takes generations, he says, before the "catastrophic" consequences of cigarette smoking are recognized, giving companies ample time to get the habit deeply ingrained into a country's culture."

Costoff, Ragsdale re-elected to head county committees

Democratic and Republican precinct committeemen of Madison County met in separate sessions in the courthouse at Edwardsville Monday night and re-elected their respective county committee chairman, neither of whom had opposition.

The Democrats renamed Christ Costoff of Madison as committee chairman and re-elected the committee's only other officer, State Rep. Sam W. Wolf of Granite City as secretary-treasurer.

The Republicans, however, elected a total of 11 officers, including five vice-chairmen. They re-elected Dr. Edward Ragsdale of the Alton area as chairman.

Other GOP officers elected by the approximately 141 committeemen attending the county convention were: Peggy Garwood, recording secretary; Dorothy Raymond, corresponding secretary; Everett Steele (state representative) vice-chairman.

Larkin Williams, second vice-chairman; Bob Mattingly, third vice-chairman; Vetrica Weiler, fourth vice-chairman; Kent Holsinger, fifth vice-chairman.

Also Udell Wehling, treasurer; Ray Rodgers, assistant treasurer, and Elmer Metzger, sergeant at arms.

With approximately 100 committeemen attending, the Democratic committee defeated an effort by Wood River township delegates to establish the office of vice-chairman, an office the Democrats never have had.

Lengthy discussion of the duties and powers of a vice-chairman followed the introduction of a resolution by the Wood-River committeemen, providing such an office be created.

A voice vote was declared close on a motion to table the resolution, but a subsequent roll call vote substantially carried the motion to table.

The Democratic convention also approved a resolution to recommend to the State Board of Education and to the Illinois General Assembly that the office of regional school superintendent remain an elective position and that boundaries of the present regions remain unchanged.

The recommendation also calls for additional duties for the regional superintendent.

Reports on studies of the regional school offices have resulted in suggestions that the legislature reduce the present 37 school regions to 30 and that superintendents be appointed.

The Republicans heard talks by Ron Davinroy, Republican candidate for congressman of the 23rd congressional district, by Larry West, candidate for county auditor; Don Weber, candidate for state's attorney of Madison County, and State Rep. Steele.

Davinroy and West discussed their qualifications for the offices they are seeking and Weber told the committeemen that "The Republicans can win this year" in Madison County. He noted that his Democratic opponent won the nomination with only one-third of the Democratic vote.

Rep. Steele said that 1980 "is the year of the Republicans." He said that the inflation rate and hostage rate "are the highest in memory and the people want this turned around."

He noted the people have a chance to elect a man originally from Illinois as president (presumably Reagan).

The committeemen also approved a motion to support Gerald Cohn as candidate for appellate court judge in the November election. While no candidate for the post was listed on the primary election ballot, the office was left open to write-in candidacies.

It was not immediately determined whether an appointive candidacy or one established by write-in votes would prevail.

Among township central committee reorganizations during the weekend was the re-election of Harry Briggs as chairman of the Nameoki Township Democratic Committee without opposition.

Mrs. Helen Hawkins was re-elected secretary-treasurer and Loren Madison was elected vice-chairman to succeed Frank Mehlich who did not seek re-election.

Venice Township committeemen re-elected Hilbert Hoekstra as chairman, and re-elected Casimir Krakowiak as secretary-treasurer. The Venice Township Committee has no vice-chairman.

SEVENTH GRADERS HAVE NEW LOCKERS. Sixth, seventh and eighth grade students in Madison who will be attending the new Madison Middle School on Monday, April 7, received locker assignments and an orientation

Arrest driver

John Brooks, who listed a post office box in Granite City as his address, was arrested at St. Clair and Dale avenues at 3:35 a.m. Tuesday and was charged with damaging city property.

A policeman alleged Brooks' pickup truck turned from Maryville Road west onto St. Clair Avenue and struck a traffic sign in the median. The truck then returned to the roadway and continued west, but left the road again a few yards from the first sign and struck a second sign in the median.

The officer used his red lights and siren and stopped the truck at Dale Avenue, where Brooks was arrested.

5 seeking 3 Madison School Board posts

SAM DYMAS

Sam Dymas, current president of the Madison Board of Education, is seeking re-election to the board for a second three year term.

Dymas, his wife, Pam, and their young daughter live at 1720 Edwardsville Road. He is employed as recreation director for the City of Madison.

Dymas attended Harris and Louis Baer Schools and graduated in 1963 from Madison High School, following which he went to Illinois State University.

As a youth, Dymas lettered in football and baseball all four years at MHS and lettered one year in basketball. Dymas was also active in the Boy Scouts and Khoury League baseball.

He has maintained his interest in sports and is a certified Illinois High School Association basketball official.

Currently, Dymas is a member of St. Mary's Catholic Church, the Madison Lions and the adult committee of Explorer Post 10-4.

As recreation director, Dymas has instituted many programs for people of Madison at all age levels.

In April 1978, Dymas was unanimously elected president of the Madison School Board and he continues in that post.

"Since being elected to the school board, I honestly feel I have made a real contribution toward the improvement of the education process for all the children in the Madison school district," he comments.

"A good public school system is an invaluable asset to our American society and we must all continue to improve it."

"I feel that each individual in the community must play a part in always trying to improve our schools."

"I believe that during the past three years I have helped make the new middle school a reality and end the very poor situation we have been forced to suffer with for so long."

"Learning is a process that goes on from birth to the grave. Proper motivation and stimulation have to be applied to make learning more meaningful."

"I have worked hard for our children and our schools and that is why I am asking the voters of the Madison School District to vote for me again and give me an opportunity to continue to serve the district and our children."

EVELYN M. HOLT

Mrs. Evelyn M. Holt, 1025 Alton Ave., Madison, is seeking election, for the first time, to the Madison School Board for a three-year term.

She and her husband, Eugene M. Holt, a Union Electric Co. employee for 32 years, have three grown daughters.

She graduated from Madison High School in 1948 and has attended Southern Illinois University at Edwardsville for seven summers, selecting classes on feeding and nutrition.

Mrs. Holt served as cafeteria director for the Madison Public Schools from March 1972 until she resigned in December 1979.

She is a past secretary, vice-president and president of the Madison Schools Mothers Club, and past secretary and president of the Madison Band Parents.

She worked as secretary at Harris School and as head cook at MHS from 1969 until she became the cafeteria director.

She voices as her reasons for seeking office: "As parents of four children who have attended the Madison schools, my husband and I have been witnesses to many changes within the Madison school system."

"Many of these changes have been commendable. However, there are notable exceptions, particularly in the makeup of the school board. College graduates, majoring in administration of justice."

"Even though I've only been on the school board for a short time, it has been a learning experience. I have been a dependable representative of the community," he told the Press-Record.

"I relate how vital it is to get more parents involved in the problems and the operation of their school system and the learning process of the students."

"If elected, I will continue to work closely with the teachers, administration and parents for the betterment of our school system."

"I feel that each individual in the community must play a part in always trying to improve our schools."

"I believe that during the past three years I have helped make the new middle school a reality and end the very poor situation we have been forced to suffer with for so long."

"Learning is a process that goes on from birth to the grave. Proper motivation and stimulation have to be applied to make learning more meaningful."

"I have worked hard for our children and our schools and that is why I am asking the voters of the Madison School District to vote for me again and give me an opportunity to continue to serve the district and our children."
